"STRIKE IS H—," DECLARES BISHOP SPALDING OF PEORIA

The Famous Prelate Urges Arbitration by Permanent Board of All Disagreements Between Labor and Capital.

SUCH COMMISSION TO BE NAMED BY THE PRESIDENT

Argument Made Before the Congressional Committee That Has the First Arbitration Bill Under Consideration.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Bishop Spalding of Peoria, a member of the anthracite coal strike commission, today urged the plan of arbitration contained in the Foss bill before the House committee on labor. The bill provides for a permanent board of arbitration to which shall be referred disputes between labor and capital.

Volney W. Foster briefly concluded his remarks begun at the last hearing on the bill. Mr. Foster took President Gompers of the Federation of Labor to task for opposing the bill. He quoted Mr. Gompers favoring arbitration in a speech before the Civic Federation in New York in December, 1901, and then referred to Mr. Gompers' statement before the committee at the last meeting to the effect that strikes are a good thing.

John Mitchell of the coal miners' organization and James Duncan, first vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, were quoted in favor of arbitration in their public utterances.

The latter statement of Mr. Gompers, and also of Daniel Davenport, representing the anti-boycott association, in favor of strikes and lockouts, Mr. Foster believed, were inspired in the first instance by the personal interests of the gentlemen making them. Answering questions by Acting Chairman Vreeland, Bishop Spalding said it was not his opinion that the proposed tribunal would never be called upon to determine the question of what is a legitimate profit on the investment of capital. Its province would be to settle disputes as to hours, treatment and pay of employes by the employers. A fair wage, he said, was determined in the soft coal mines of the West by the condition in the mines and the cost of living. Where a business did not permit of a living wage, according to the American standard of living, that business ought to close up, declared the bishop.

"I would say," he continued, "as Sherman said of war, that the strike is ——. Men who went out on a strike went back injured morally, and not the same men. The children of strikers had been taught to taunt children of other workmen. The condition between capital and labor was not improving," he said, although he believed the anthracite coal strike commission had accomplished good results. He referred to the present labor troubles in Colorado, San Francisco and Chicago. These conditions were blocks to bettering the general conditions of the country.

It was becoming more and more manifest that capital and labor were interdependent on each other.

Asked if he did not think the conditions were improving as to lawlessness, Bishop Spalding said that it did not seem so to an yextent. He said the riotous conditions during the anthracite strike were not as bad in this respect as the newspapers had made them, although there was picketing and always would be violence in strikes.

"I don't think there is in America any class of employers who deliberately do their men wrong," declared Bishop Spalding.

The bishop said he believed the American people to be a people of good will toward labor and the distressed. He believed the people free from anarchistic ideas, and said that the tendency to socialism is only in a minor way. He regarded a permanent tribunal of greater value than one created for each case of dispute.

He did not believe, he said, in sympathetic strikes. The strike, he replied, when asked if he would deny labor organizations the right to strike, was the one weapon of labor organizations, and to deny that right would be to deny the right to organize, but the great object sought, he added, is to bring about peaceful settlements without strikes. Labor organizations, he said, had accomplished much good. He is satisfied that any president would appoint a nonpartisan tribunal. He had asked Mr. Mitchell if labor organizations would thrive if they lost the approval of public opinion and Mitchell replied that they would not, but would disintegrate.

PRISONER HAD $2160 IN CASH

Harry E. Thraikell Arrested in East St. Louis Charged With Fraud in Land Deal.

Harry E. Thraikill, having in his possession greenbacks to the amount of $2160, was arrested in Winstanley Park, East St. Louis, at noon Wednesday by Detectives Stocker and Neville, on the request of the police of Newark, O.

It is charged that Thraikill was involved in an irregular land deal, of which Dr. Smith of Newark claims to be the victim.

Thraikill, later, denied the charge, and said he would prove his innocence.

NICHOLS IN BOX FOR THE CARDINALS

Pitching Manager Decides to Work in the Fourth Contest With the Browns.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LEAGUE PARK, April 6.—The warmer weather and the assurances of the weather man that there would be no rain before night brought out a large midweek crowd to witnss the fourth battle of the spring series between the Browns and Cardinals this afternoon.

The strong batting of the Cardinals was also a magnet to attract, and there were cheers for the red-legged men when they went upon the field for practice.

Nichols was confident of winning today's game. "It was a bad break for us yesterday," he said. "We ought to have won, but luck was against us. If we can keep up our batting, though—and I am sure we can—we'll win our full share of games."

McAleer was more than confident. He was joyful, and a bit inclined to "roast."

"It don't seem like the same old smile," he said, as he glanced toward Nichols, who was "warming up." "Charles, the other day—Sunday, I believe it was—had difficulty in holding all of his smile on the front side of his face; it was inclined to spread clear back to his ears. Now—Well, yesterday's game was a hard one for him to lose.

"With only two more games needed to take the series, while the Cardinals must win three out of four, I don't see anything to the finish of this series but just what I've said all along—the Browns will win. Sudhoff and Sievers will each win his game, and that will let us out. We may get away with an extra victory, just for good measure."

Many Browns Still on Hospital List.

McAleer's confidence is great, when it is considered that his club is still well represented in the hospital. Wallace, Hill, Glade and Gleason are the men most needed, who are resting.

Brain was announced as having a strained leg before the game and was out of the line-up, Shay takink his place at short. Brain will not be able to play until Saturday.

Nichols decided that he was good enough to work for the Cardinals and Pelty was put in for the Browns. Attendance, 2000.

AX FALLS ON CAR SPOTTERS

A Dozen Claim Agents Also Summarily Dismissed by Capt. McCulloch of the Transit Co.

As a moral guarantee that there will be fewer accidents in the future charged to the St. Louis Transit Co., Capt. Robert McCulloch, the new general manager, has lopped off the heads of a dozen "claim agents."

Capt. McCulloch, in so doing, has not waited for favorable reports or clean sheets from his operating department, but has summarily dispensed with the men whose duty it was to effect settlements out of court if possible.

The wielding of the ax also cost the heads of several "spotters," or "soft-shoe" men, who had been used as a check on conductors. It was their custom to board crowded cars and see that fares were properly rung up.

It is estimated roughly that the company will save $20,000 in salaries as a result of the new order.

IS HE THE BRIDGE JUMPER?

Man Answering to the Description of the River Suicide Is Reported to the Police as Missing.

"If I don't die tonight I never will die," said Joseph Hervat, aged 27, to his roommate, John Jost, at 1702 South Tenth street, Monday afternoon. Jost thought Hervat was joking, but when Hervat had failed to appear Tuesday night he notified the Soulard street police station.

Hervat was five feet seven inches tall, had dark hair, dark mustache, weighed 160 pounds, and was slightly bald.

MORE SHOWERS, LESS CHILL

More showers and warmer weather are promised by the weather bureau. The showers are billed for late tonight, and are expected to continue Thursday. The forecast is:

"Showers late tonight and Thursday; warmer tonight. Variable winds, becoming southerly."

Showers is the prevailing condition over the greater part of the country, but nowhere except on the Pacific coast do they reach the dignity of a storm. The weather is warmer except in the Northwest, where snow is falling and where there is a killing frost. Snow is also falling north of the Great Lakes. There is no indication at present of the cold weather coming into this vicinity.

LOVE CONQUERS OBSTACLES FOR SENATOR'S SON

Lifelong Affection Results in Wedding of Clarence M. Thurston, Son of Omaha Statesman, and Pretty Daughter of Railroad Employe.

TREASURED HER MEMORY WHILE HE ROAMED ABROAD

Love triumphed over seemingly insurmountable difficulties in the marriage of Clarence L. Thurston of Omaha, Washington, Paris, and the world in general, a son of former United States Senator John M. Thurston, now an attorney in Washington, to Miss Nellie Cotter of North Omaha, a stenographer and daughter of a switchman, at the parsonage of the New Cathedral chapel in St. Louis, Tuesday morning.

Miss Grace Thurston, a sister of the groom, who served as bridemaid, met her prospective sister-in-law for the first time in St. Louis Sunday, although they had grown to womanhood in the same city. The social gap between the families was such that the two young women had never met.

The romance began years ago, when the young people, now 24 years of age, entered an Omaha ward school. Clarence went from the palatial home of the attorney of the Union Pacific Railroad, a home fitted to the social position of one of the best known and most influential families in the state.

Nellie went from the humble home of a railroad switchman, a home whose chief claim to distinction was the uprightness and happiness of those who dwelt within.

Soon Clarence began to talk of Nellie at home and to his chum "Dick," a son of Richard C. Cushing, who was later to be mayor of the city and whose family moved in the same circle as the Thurstons.

The childhood friendship attracted little attention in the Thurston home, and as Clarence grew older he said less of it, but his admiration for the pretty blue-eyed girl did not grow less. Had it not been for "Dick's" teasing remarks, his family and his friends might have forgotton it.

Through school, the son of the future senator and the daughter of the switchman kept pace and graduated in 1896.

Then came the election of John M. Thurston to the Senate, and his handsome home, "Thorwald," became the social center of the city.

But from many of those receptions Clarence was strangely missing. Only "Dick" Cushing of his many friends knew that on those evenings he was spending his time in the North Omaha cottage with the Nellie who was now but a vague memory to all in the handsome home except the son.

After the senatorial election the Thurston family moved to Washington and Clarence entered Harvard, returning frequently to participate in official receptions at his father's home.

He met the women of the capital, and at Harvard he was one of the popular men at all university functions, but he found little pleasure in them.

Many were the reasons advanced for the young man's apparent indifference to society, but in none of them did the real romance appear.

Tiring of the life in which his heart was not, the young man sought the consent of his father to go abroad. He reached Paris shortly before the great exposition in that city, became identified with it officially and was welcomed to the best of the homes open to that official circle.

Again he met the beauties of not only gay France, but of the world. At the close of the Exposition, he traveled over Europe and into Asia, and through the acquaintance gained in Paris, was welcomed into the best homes of the capitals.

Returning to the United States, he secured an appointment as secretary of the American embassy at Buenos Ayres, where he watched for the letters from North Omaha more eagerly than he counted invitations to official functions.

Returning to Washington two years ago, he secured employment at the World's Fair offices, and as he proved his worth and was advanced in position, he began to think of a home of his own.

Miss Cotter was working as a stenographer in Omaha. Lately arrangements were made for the wedding, and as Mr. Thurston was unable to secure a leave of absence from his duties at the Fair, a wedding in St. oLuis was arranged.

Miss Cotter reached St. Louis last week and was taken to the home of Mr. Thurston's friends, the Cushings, where she was made a welcome guest.

In the wedding party Tuesday there was but one person, beside her husband, with whom she was acquainted before she came to St. Louis, although all of the young persons had grown to manhood and womanhood in Omaha. He was "Dick" Cushing, the best man.

Miss Grace Thurston, the bridegroom's sister, was bridemaid, and the other attendants were Miss Lucile Cushing and Miss Blanche Cushing. Rev. Father Gillilan performed the ceremony.

A breakfast at the Planters' and a reception at the Cushing home closed the day. The young couple will make their home for the present at 4661 Delmar boulevard.

Former Senator Thurston was to have been present, but was detained by business engagements, and the young couple decided not to further delay the ceremony.

The first plan was for a double wedding Tuesday morning, but M. R. Smith of Batesville, Ark., who was to have married Miss Lucile Cushing, was recently taken ill in Yellville and was unable to reach St. Louis. The date for this wedding will be announced after Mr. Smith's recovery.

U. S. SENATOR BURTON'S SENTENCE IS SIX MONTHS IN JAIL AND $2500 FINE

IMPRESSIVE SCENE IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT TODAY WHEN JUDGE ADAMS SENTENCED SENATOR BURTON.

Judge Adams Condemns Convicted Senator for Misuse of Official Influence—He Asks the Court to Excuse Him From Making Reply.

CONFINEMENT IN IRON COUNTY JAIL ORDERED

United States Senator Joseph Ralph Burton was, at 12:35 Wednesday afternoon, sentenced to six months in the Iron County, Mo., jail and to pay a fine of $2500 on conviction of having accepted money for the use of his influence as a United States senator to prevent the issuance of a fraud order against the Rialto Grain and Securities Co.

It is a coincidence that the amount of the fine imposed is identical with the amount which Senator Burton received from the Rialto company.

The sentence was imposed by Judge Elmer B. Adams, sitting in the United States District Court.

Judge Adams, in a talk from the bench as he imposed the sentence, strongly arraigned Senator Burton for the part which he played, and for what he referred to as his betrayal of the great trust imposed upon him by his constituents.

Senator Burton, who is senior senator from Kansas, was convicted after an exhaustive trial, in which various letters from him to the Rialto Grain and Securities Co., the checks which he received in paymcnt for his services in behalf of the "get-rich-quick" concern before the post-office department and the testimony of numerous agents of the government were introduced.

Senator Burton's defense was that he was acting merely in the capacity of an attorney and did not employ his senatorial influence in the work.

An appeal will be taken.

Before passing sentence Judge Adams asked Senator Burton if he had anything to say.

"Your honor will please allow me to decline to say anything," replied Burton.

Then Judge Adams said in part:

"After a fair and impartial trial by a jury of exceptional intelligence, you have been found guilty of the offenses charged in the indictment against you.

"A motion for a new trial in your behalf affords me an opportunity to carefully review and consider the evidence. As a result of this I am satisfied the jury reached the just and true result. The evidence abundantly warranted their verdict, and I find no reason either in the law governing the case or in the proceedings attending the trial for disburbing it.

"Your conviction necessarily resulted in your punishment. Its importance, in my opinion, is not confined to its effect upon you. Your exalted station in life and the character of your offending give unusual significance to your conviction."

"It demonstrates that the law of the land is equal to any emergency and that it can be administered, regardless of the personality or station of the accused. It also demonstrates to all the people that public office cannot be prostituted to self-serving purposes—that public office is not a sure or safe passport to private thrift.

"The humiliation attending your conviction and the statutory disqualification resulting therefrom, which forever incapacitates you from holding any office of honor, trust or profit under the government of the United States are in themselves heavy punishment for your offenses, and leave but little in the way of severity which could be added.

"It is neither my pleasure nor purpose to impose any unnecessary punishment.

"I think the majesty of the law will be sufficiently indicated and the public welfare sufficiently safeguarded by imposing a single sentence, warranted as it is on any one of the six counts of the indictment on which you were convicted.

This sentence will be:

"That you be confined in the Iron County jail for a period of six months and that you pay a fine of $2500."

Senator Burton appeared at the federal building at 11:30 o'clock and went into the office of the district attorney. He remained there until 12:30 o'clock, when the marshal sucmoned him into court before Judge Adams.

Senator Burton approached the bar of the court, and stood erect while Judge Adams addressed him. He wore the long coat in which he appeared during the trial. He was clean shaven, and apparently undisturbed.

When sentence had been pronounced, he stepped back and sat down beside his lawyers.

His bond was raised from $5000 to $10,000, with Hubert A. Vrooman, George W. Davis and E. H. Kastor as sureties.

Upon stepping outside the door Senator Burton stopped to light a cigar and then walked to his hotel.

He declined to discuss the sentence, and

WARSHIPS COMING TO WORLD'S FAIR

The Nashville and the Lawrence Enter the Mississippi on the Way to St. Louis.

NEW ORLEANS, April 6.—The United States gunboat Nashville and the torpedo boat Lawrence entered the river today. They will coal here and then proceed to St. Louis to be present at the opening of the Exposition.

FAMOUS GEN. CRONJE ARRIVES IN AMERICA

The Doughty Boer Leader and Hero of Paardeburg Lands at Newport News and Will Start for St. Louis Thursday.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., April 6.—The ship Deuns Castle arrived this morning from South Africa, having aboard Gen. Cronje and 420 men, women and children, bound for the St. Louis Exposition.

All were in good spirits. They will remain here today and give a parade in the morning, leaving in the afternoon for St. Louis.

The Boer men and women were with Cronje at Paardeburg when he surrendered. There are also 120 English veterans in the party, which also includes natives of Swazi, Zambesi and Zululand. There are Kaffirs also who are black as night.

Gustave Simon, the smallest soldier in the Boer war, is with the party. He is 36 years old and 42 inches high.

BULLET FLEW IN POLICE COURT

Assistant City Attorney Noonan Had a Narrow Escape and Judge Pollard Turned Pale.

James R. Hoffman of 2502 North Ninth street is ready to agree that an old German pinfire revolver is about the most troublesome bit of furniture that ever got into his house.

First, the revolver got Hoffman into Dayton street police court; then it came near making an end of Assistant City Attorney Edward A. Noonan during the trial.

And finally it cost Hoffman $10 and costs.

Hoffman was arrested Monday night for standing on the back porch of his house and firing the old revolver. A policeman said Hoffman was hilarious, and every time the revolver would shoot Hoffman would shout. Hence his arrest.

The weapon was in court as evidence. Noonan, in prosecuting the case, asked if that was the revolver.

Hoffman admitted sadly that it was.

Noonan began to investigate. With the assistance of Marshal John J. McDermott he began to remove the cartridges. Four of them came out all right. The fifth stuck. The weapon was passed to John J. McAuliffe, a deputy marshal.

McAuliffe worked at the load with his finger nails, Noonan bending over him. Suddenly the hammer came down on the pin, and a 38-caliber bullet made a hole in the floor beside Noonan's foot.

Noonan jumped, McAuliffe yelled, half a dozen women in the courtroom screamed, Judge Pollard turned pale, and Hoffman trembled. Then everybody sighed a sigh of relief.

There wasn't much more testimony; the revolver spoke for itself and Hoffman was fined.

HIS "LOUD" CLOTHES HUMILIATES WIFE

Witness Alleges T. B. Jackson Often Expressed His Opinion That Six Years Was Limit for Happy Married Life.

The degree of humiliation that can be caused a wife by her husband's wearing loud shirts, neckties, socks and underwear and painting his cheeks and blackening his eyebrows, was under consideration before Judge Kinealy in courtroom No. 10 Wednesday morning, in the contested divorce suit of Charlotte M. Jackson against Thomas B. Jackson.

Mrs. Jackson's sister, Mrs. Harriet Jackson of 1762 Arlington avenue, the wife of Mr. Jackson's brother, was a witness for Mrs. Jackson, and testified to having seen Mr. Jackson adorn himself in the manner described and also of having read letters signed "Sweet Alice." She also testified that Mr. Jackson frequently expressed his belief that six years was a reasonable limit for happy married life and that 12 years was the extreme limit.

The couple were married September 22, 1889, and separated August 22, 1903. Since the separation Mrs. Jackson and her two boys have been living with her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Smith of 3130 North Grand avenue. In a cross bill filed in the suit, Jackson charges his wife with frequenting wine-rooms.

Mrs. Jackson has been receiving $10 a week alimony since the suit was filed.

THE WEATHER INDICATIONS.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Forecast:

Missouri—Partly cloudy Wednesday night and Thursday; warmer in west portion Wednesday night; variable winds.

Tennessee—Partly cloudy Wednesday night; Thursday, fair.

PLUNGER GATES PRAISES THE FAIR

Tells His Son Charley to Take in the Exposition Thoroughly Before He Leaves.

"Chicago, Buffalo, Paris, Atlanta and Omaha expositions rolled into one will not equal the St. Louis World's Fair, and when you go to St. Louis do not be in such a hurry as to miss seeing the show," said John W. Gates, the well-known plunger, to his son, Charles G. Gates, who is in St. Louis today to attend the Edgar-Allen wedding, which is to take place this afternoon.

"Father was here last week," said the younger member of the Gates family, "and he is most enthusiastic in his praise of the Fair, and made me promise to look the ground over thoroughly.

"My trip here is purely a social one. I have many personal and business friends here, and I am spending my time with them. I am a strong bull on stocks and think that the country is in the best condition that it has been for many years. Just watch that quotation board," and he hurriedly left to answer a telegram from his New York office.

Young Mr. Gates, well known for the individuality of his attire, was resplendent in a blue shirt of startling hue, with rather more quiet overgarments than is his usual custom.

Seeks Custody of Children.

Mrs. Mary Eckert filed application for a writ of habeas corpus in Judge Fisher's court Wednesday morning, seeking to recover custody of three minor children from her former husband, Henry Poeling. She pleads that the divorce decree awarded her custody of the children, but Poeling refuses to surrender them.

GORGEOUS COSTUMES OF ORIENTALS TO BE WORN AT D. O. C. BALL

Most Strikingly Brilliant Social Affair Ever Held in St. Louis Will Be Given Additional Eclat by the Military—Grand March a Parade of Nations.

The Louisiana Purchase ball, to be given Friday night at the Jefferson Hotel under the auspices of the St. Louis Chapter U. D. C. and the Confederate Memorial Society, will without doubt be the most elaborate and gorgeous event society will enjoy for a long time. All society has signified its readiness to attend this remarkable assembling of the people of all nations. The opening number on the beautifully embossed gold and white dance program emblazoned with the tri-colored World's Fair flag, announces the grand march, and truly it will be a pageant that will live long after in memory. In this procession will be the representatives of every nation in their most regal raiment, and the officers of the United States army will add gallantry and color to the ensemble. The new ballroom will be draped and decked with flags and bunting, and flowers and greenery from the Southland will transform it into a tropical garden.

All the prominent foreigners will wear their native costumes. Mme. Lugawa, who is noted for her magnificent costumes, will appear in one of unusual brilliancy. Mrs. Bois, the charming English woman, the wife of Mr. Stanley Bois, the Ceylon commissioner general, will be one of the receiving party, as will the wife of Mr. M. Pieris of Ceylon, an interesting and very dainty Linghalese lady, who is deeply interested in the World's Fair, and who speaks English fluently. The funds of this ball will be devoted to entertaining the 1000 delegates of the U. D. C. and D. O. C., who will meet in St. Louis during October.

Foreigners Who Will Attend.

The following prominent foreigners have all accepted invitations, and will be in the receiving line with Mr. and Mrs. Francis, Mr. and Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Manning, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Spencer, Dr. Theodore Lewald, German commissioner-general; Dr. C. F. Rieloff of the German consulate, Mr. Carl, commissioner-general of the Imperial Chinese commission, and Mrs. Carl; Mr. Fernando Mesa and Mr. Francisco de Armas, commissioner-general of Cuba; M. Jules Baeufre, commissioner-general for France; Dr. Herman E. Lawford, Mr. and Mrs. Quinbell and Miss Cox, Egyptian commission; Mr. Stanley Bois, commissioner-general of Ceylon, and Mrs. Bois, Mr. R. Hugh Elliot, Mr. and Mrs. P. Pieres of the Ceylon commission; Imperial commissioner-general of Austria, N. Adelbert Von Stioral; Mr. and Mrs. Estaban Duque de Estrada, commissioner-general from Spain; Maj. Samuel Garcia Cuellar, Spain commission; Mr. Josee de Olivares, commissioner of the Argentine Republic; Mr. Edward Schiffino, Argentine commission; Dr. and Mrs. Jose V. Fernandes, Argentine commission; Mr. Willy Maartens, Netherlands commission; Mr. R. Huyskl, Ceylon commission; Mr. Jules Pontal, Mexican commission; Mr. Guillermo Puente, Argentine commission; Mr. Everet Nelson, Argentine commission; Mr. and Mrs. Sugawa, Japanese commission; Mr. Chang You Tong, Chinese commission; Mr. N. G. W. Lagestedt, Swedish commission; Chevalier Zeggio, Italian commissioner, and Mme. Zeggio; Mr. and Mrs. Sauza Aguiar, Brazilian commissioner; Col. and Mrs. Watson, English commission; Mr. J. Lameda, Venezuela commission; Mr. Hajime Ota, Japanese commissioner; Mr. M. Kanzki, Japanese commission.

The following is a list of the chairmen of the various committees and the ladies and gentlemen who will serve on the reception and floor committees:

D. R. Francis, honorary chairman of ball; Rolla Wells, honorary chairman of reception committee; Walter B. Stevens, honorary chairman of floor committee; Mrs. D. R. Francis, Mrs. Rolla Wells, Mrs. Daniel Manning, ladies of honor; Mrs. W. G. Moore, chairman of ball; Mrs. Leroy B. Valliant, vice chairman; Mrs. F. E. Marshall, chairman of reception committee; Corwin H. Spencer chairman of gentlemen's reception committee; Francis D. Hirschberg, vice-chairman; William H. Thomson, chairman of floor committee; Ricardo Diaz Albertini, vice-chairman.

VARDAMAN AGAIN SAVES NEGRO.

Once More Orders Out Militia to Rescue Accused Black.

JACKSON, Miss., April 6.—The negro, Albert Baldwin, who killed Engineer Fogarty some time ago, was started today for Tallahatchie County for trial.

When the train reached Tishula word was sent to Gov. Vardaman that a mob was forming to take the negro from the train and lynch him. The governor immediately telegraphed the officers in charge to take the negro to Greenwood and keep him there, later sending a detachment of militia to take the negro to Sumner by special train.

Baldwin is the negro who was some time ago saved from lynching by being taken by a military company to Batesville and bringing him to this city.

"I will spend every dollar at my command but that I will give that negro a fair trial," said Gov. Vardaman.

NAVY AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

PENSACOLA, Fla., April 6.—The gunboat Nashville and torpedo destroyer Lawrence sailed form Pensacola yesterday afternoon for St. Louis to represent the navy at the World's Fair.

The vessels reached New Orleans Wednesday and then stopped for coal, proceeding Thursday on the voyage.

Both the gunboat and destroyer have just been launched from the docks and are in excellent condition.

BARRINGTON'S PLEA FOR A NEW TRIAL

His Attorney Holds That the Presence of McCann's Widow Influenced the Jury.

Before Judge McElhinney at Clayton Wednesday, Attorney Shelley Grover presented a dozen grounds in his motion for a new trial for F. Seymour Barrington, who stands condemned for the murder of James P. McCann.

The motion sets forth that improper remarks were made to the jury in the trial by Prosecuting Attorney Roland Johnson and his assistant, Gardner; that they commented on things not in evidence; that they had failed to prove that the body found in the Bonfils quarry was that of McCann; that there was no evidence justifying first degree murder instructions; that improper testimony was admitted for the prosecution; that surprises were sprung by the prosecution; that testimony for the defense was excluded when it should not have been; that Mrs. McCann's presence in the courtroom during the trial tended to prejudice the jury against the defendant, and that one of the jurors talked through a window to a man outside the courtroom during the "Indian" uprising at Clayton.

Attorneys Grover and Johnson are arguing the motion this afternoon.

GETS HIM WIFE; STAYS HOME

Edward Leroy's Father Could Not Bear to See Him Live in Chicago —Encourages Lad to Marry.

"Better married and living in St. Louis than a bachelor with a good job in Chicago" was the paternal advice which led to the hasty proposal and wedding of Edward Leroy of 2817 North Fourteenth street to Miss Edna R. Overheim of 2008 North Ninth street Tuesday.

Further, the young man's father, Henry B. Leroy, aided and abetted the affair by accompanying the youthful couple to the county seat at Clayton, where he have his consent. The groom is but 20 years of age and his bride is 18.

Monday night at 12 o'clock the young man was to have left for Chicago to accept a position with a music publishing house, but at 10 p. m. the father, who could not bear to see his son leave St. Louis, said: "Why not get married and stay here?"

"She hasn't even promised to marry me," was the boy's protest.

"Have you asked her?" insisted the father gently.

"Not yet."

But the young man went to bed instead of to Chicago, and bright and early Tuesday morning he called on the young woman of his choice, proposed and was accepted. Shortly before noon the trip to Clayton was begun, and during the afternoon the swift romance reached a happy ending.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Overheim of 2008 North Ninth street, but for several weeks had been living at the home of Leroy's sister, Mrs. A. F. Harting, 3827 Greer avenue. The young man is a well known North Side baritone singer, a member of the Future City quartet, and first won the interest of his future bride through his singing.

NEW BURLINGTON BOND ISSUE.

$14,000,000 Will Be Used in Paying for Recent Improvements.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The directors of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad have issued new bonds aggregating $14,000,000, which will be used to fund the floating debt and short term obligations of the company, incurred in making general improvements during the last two years. A large part of the bonds also will be used for the purchase of equipment.

The new issue will bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent and is understood to be secured by the Illinois divisional mortgage. This mortgage was made in 1899 and the total authorized issue of bonds secured by it aggregates $85,000,000. Of this amount, $41,000,000 already have been issued and bear interest at 3½ per cent.

FIRST WOMAN APPLICANT FOR FAIR SEASON TICKET.

MISS MILDRED MORROW

Miss Mildred Morrow of Oklahoma City, who, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Morrow, will spend the season at 1115 South Taylor avenue, has been photographed that her picture may adorn the piece of cardboard, as per requirements, and the photograph herewith presented is the one to be reproduced in miniature on the pass.

The Murillo Studio management, which have secured the concession to make all the season ticket holders photos, will request that all women applicants wear light-colored gowns and remove their hats during the sitting. They are entitled to four sittings each, and are advised that they take several costumes to the studio.

NO RED SKIRTS ARE ALLOWED

Pennsylvania Railroad Officials Will Not Permit Them on Their Tracks as They Frighten Engineers.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 6.—No woman wearing a red skirt must venture near the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad in future. The penalty for disregarding this injunction will be summary arrest.

It is all the fault of the Italian women who make a pastime of gathering coal along the tracks and dress appropriately for the occasion in what they have always thought was a beautiful shade of railroad red.

Red skirts and red handkerchiefs are also tabooed. The Irish track walkers and section hands must wear dark blue or drab colored shirts. The fact that so many fast trains are being run long stretches without stoppages has caused a general complaint from engineers along the whole system.

The flash of a red dress or petticoat just as they have rounded a curve with express trains has made many engineers prematurely old, say Pennsylvania officials.

ROOSEVELT FOR GEN. PORTER.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—General Horace Porter, ambassador to France, is President Roosevelt's candidate for governor of New York, to succeed Odell.

The President has been talking the matter over with his friends and both he and Senator Lodge agree that General Porter would make a strong candidate. Senator Platt and Governor Odell have interposed no objection to Porter and he is said to meet with their approval.

The President has advanced the name of Ambassador Porter in the hope of preventing any open rupture between Senator Platt and Governor Odell as to who shall be the candidate. He thinks they can agree on General Porter and that he will make an ideal candidate.

In addition to having the approval of Senator Lodge, who is his personal friend, Ambassador Porter is a graduate of Harvard as well as West Point, and this makes him eligible in the eyes of the President.

Mr. Roosevelt has caused the name of General Porter to be mentioned more as an experiment than anything else. He is not pledged to support him, and, if the politicians in New York don't like him another can be selected.

STORIES COMPLETED; LICENSE REFUSED

Clerk, Despite Tears and Pleadings, Could Not Distinguish the Real Paul Kisselbatch.

Tears from the blue eyes of a girl as blue, and pleadings and even harsh words from one of the men in the case, alike failed to turn Charles F. Redman, marriage license clerk at Clayton, from his determination Wednesday, and Paul Kisselbatch and Vivian R. Voudrie, who want all the way from East St. Louis, were sent back home without a license.

The trouble came through the clerk's disbelief in the girl's statement that she was 19 years old, and in the further fact that a man, whose name has not been learned, tried to pose as Kisselbatch in securing the license. The real Kisselbatch appears to be much younger than the 28 years which he claims.

The trio—the two men and the girl—reached Clayton early in the morning, and for two hours wandered about in the neighborhood of the courthouse, arguing and evidently trying to settle something. Then the older of the men and Miss Voudrie went to the marriage license office. Redman thought Miss Voudrie was not more than 18, although she said she was 19, and questioned her closely. She said she had gone to Clayton to get married because she wanted to keep the wedding a secret until she had finished a course in a dressmaking school.

Redman finally decided to issue the license, but when it came time for the man to sign the affidavit something about his manner convinced the clerk that he was not Kisselbatch. He said as much, but the man protested he was Kisselbatch, but the license was refused, and the couple left the room.

Half an hour later Miss Voudrie and the younger man returned. He said he was Kisselbatch, and that his friend was merely trying to help him out. Kisselbatch looked to be about 18 years old, and the license was again refused. The pretty girl cried and Kisselbatch pleaded, but it did no good; the license was not issued.

EUGENE FIELD'S SON HERE

As a result of having been named for his father's old Denver newspaper friend, Director of Exhibits Skiff, Frederick Skiff Field, son of Eugene Field, arrived Wednesday morning from Chicago to take a position in the local press bureau at the World's Fair.

Frederick acknowledges that he looks exactly like his father, the same stoop shoulder, lanky build, light hair, blue eyes, receding forehead and prominent nose.

He has not yet broken into verse, but says there's time enough yet, that at his present age, 23 years, his father began writing poetry. He was surprised to see such a magnificent school as that at Taylor avenue and Olive street named for his father.

FINEST TRAIN FOR THE FAIR.

Pullman Company Starts $500,000 Exhibit to St. Louis.

CHICAGO, April 6.—An exhibition train of ten cars built by the Pullman company left the shops for St. Louis today over the Illinois Central railroad.

The cars, said to be the finest ever made at the works, will be the company's exhibit at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. All are of different styles—a private, buffet, tourist sleeper, chair car, day coach, compartment sleeper, parlor car, ordinary sleeper, dining and composite car.

The last contains a smoking room, buffet and barber shop. In the private car is an elaborately furnished bathroom.

Instead of the brilliant varnish usual in railway cars, a dead finish has been used. In the buffet car the woodwork is all of Flemish oak.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

IT GIVES ALMOST INSTANT EFFECT.

The whole system needs new strength to make up for the Vitality used up by the effort your body makes to purify itself every spring. It needs Nerve Force quickly—for it is only from this strength of the inner nerves that the organs of the body get the power to do their work and to keep in good condition.

Tired, weak, run down, nervous women—thousands of them in homes, offices, stores and factories—dragging out their lives in poor health and low spirits, subject to grip, colds and headaches, can trace the beginning of their general decline back to the spring lassitude that got its hold upon them and never was shaken off.

NO APPETITE—CONSTIPATION—SLEEPLESS

The Wonderful Restorer Brought This Worn Out Woman Back to Happy Health.

"I wish I could tell every woman in the land how much Paine's Celery Compound will help them.

"I can never thank the friend enough who told me to try Paine's Celery Compound. I had almost given up in despair, I was so nervous, tired and run down. I had no appetite, was constipated and could not sleep.

BY MRS. EMMA PETTY.

"I was all run down and not able to follow my occupation as stenographer. I began taking Paine's Celery Compound, and thanks to it, I am now well and strong."—925 Huron St., Indianapolis.

"I got one bottle, and when I had taken half of it my bowels were regular, my appetite came back and I commenced to sleep well. Now when I overwork and begin to get nervous and cannot digest my food properly, I just take a few doses of Paine's Celery Compound and am all right again."

"It is the most wonderful restorer in the world. Before I learned what Paine's Celery Compound would do I had tried all kinds of medicines and nothing had helped me."—Mrs. Nellie R. Baker, Springfield, Vt., Oct. 10, 1903.

The Nerves rule all—Liver and bowels and blood—every organ of the body.

Paine's Celery Compound feeds actual nerve strength to the system. And through the nerves it purifies the blood and gives health and strength to the whole body.

It is the one Spring Remedy that Purifies without weakening the system, gives strength instead of taking strength.

MISS PAGE SLAIN FOR STANDING IN SOMEBODY'S WAY

Undertaker, Who Discovered She Had Been Murdered, While Embalming Body, Asserts There Was a Rational Motive for Crime.

NOTE WAS WRITTEN BY THE MURDERER TO GAIN TIME

Police Are Waiting on Analysis by a Chemist of Stomach's Contents to Determine the Time at Which the Assassination Occurred.

WESTON, MASS., April 6.—The police inquiry into the mysterious murder of Mabel Page is at a standstill.

It is admitted by the detectives that they cannot yet put the finger of suspicion upon any of the several persons they have in mind. They are waiting for the report of Prof. Wood, of Harvard College, on the contents of the woman's stomach.

They expect him to fix the time of the murder within fifteen minutes by his expert knowledge of how quick digestion progresses with various foods.

The police think Prof. Wood's report will show that the woman died between 11 and 11:30 a. m., instead of 12 to 12:30 p. m. Their researches have concerned until now persons seen near the Page home in the latter interval.

Embalmer Bruce's Startling Story.

The most startling incident that has been developed was the announcement of Embalmer Bruce, who said that he had found evidence in the house—he would not say what—that strongly pointed to a certain person.

He asserts that there was a motive for the crime, and that it was a rational one.

The woman was killed for the purpose of removing her from some one's path.

Mr. Bruce gave a detailed account of how he found the body and the nature of the wounds and proved conclusively that Mabel Page had been murdered.

Note Written by Murderer to Deceive.

"The note which was found downstairs was not written by Mabel Page, but by the murderer. She wrote a regular hand that was easy to imitate and the murderer had plenty of Mabel's handwriting.

"The note was simply left to gain time, the murderer thinking the girl's father would not go in search of his daughter after reading it.

"As to the personality of the murderer, the girl believed this pereson to be her friend and had not the slightest suspicion that the person who committed the crime bore her any ill will.

"The murderer was admitted to the house without the slightest question or suspicion. As a matter of faecet, there existed a powerful motive for the crime, and the murderer, in the guise of a friend, followed the program unrelentingly."

Mr. Bruce would not say what evidence he had found to prove his assertions, but said he had turned the facts over to State Detective Whitney.

POLITICS IN SALARY CHANGE?

Clerk Says Advance of a Companion Followed Undue Activity.

Henry J. Mueller, a clerk in the money order department of the St. Louis postoffice, whose salary was recently reduced, has complained that Albert A. Autenreith, a clerk in the same division whose salary was recently advanced, is pernicioously active in politics.

The complaint filed by Mr. Mueller, with a request that it be investigated, has been received by Postmaster Wyman. Mueller charges that Aurenreith requested Assistant District Attorney Nortoni to drop the prosecution of the naturalization cases and boasted of his political power in St. Louis County.

POST-DISPATCH PATTERNS

GIRL'S FROCK.

No. 4538—A new design for dress which will impart unusual style to an undeveloped figure is shown here in checked silk, happily associated with plain colored material. The fashionable drooping shoulder is given by a pointed yoke which falls over the sleeve in cape style. Deep pointed cuffs are used on the full bishop sleeve, and the skirt is gathered into the yoke of corresponding shaping. The full outer portion of the blouse may be gathered to the yoke, as illustrated, or the yoke may be cut away over the shoulder, if that style dress is desired. For dressy occasions a charming development would be of wash silk, using all-over lace for yokes. For every day wear a little checked gingham could be used, outlining the yokes by white embroidery or finishing braid. Any material, whether it be cotton, woolen or serge, will develop satisfactorily to the mode.

Sizes, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14 years.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch will mail Girl's Frock Pattern on receipt of 10 cents to cover cost of handling.

SIXTEEN TRIALS IN INDIAN CASES

Six Hundred Witnesses Are Summoned for Defense of Lavin and Policemen.

When the cases of John J. Lavin, "Jimmie" Holmes and Timothy Lavin, charged with interfering with voters in the recent Democratic city primaries, and of Police Sergeants John Berry, Patrick J. Kirk and Harry Dorsey and Patrolmen Andrew Aylward, Timothy Flynn, Martin Carbrey, Maurice Devine, John Mohr, John O'Connor, Frank Nally, Timothy Sullivan, Fred Kramer and S. L. Woods, charged with neglect of duty, were called before Judge Moore in the court of criminal correction Wednesday morning, Prosecuting Attorney Williams asked for a separation of the 16 cases and for a separate jury in each case. The cases were continued until April 18, and the clerk of the court was instructed to have juries impaneled.

Mr. Williams says he does not know which of the cases will be tried first. He will probably select the case appearing strongest from the state's point of view.

Six hundred witnesses have been summoned by the defense, the number including some of the most principal politicians in St. Louis. Among those for whom subpenaes have been issued are, Judge H. S. Priest, Robert Aull, Moses and Horace Rumsey, George P. Tansey, Breckenridge Jones, John W. Valliant, Judge John A. Blevins, Judge Robert Foster, Hiram Phillips, Police Captain Peter Joyce, Richard Hanlon, Jr., Robert Nolker, John C. Roberts, Ernest Boogier, Judge Tracy of the city hall police court.

SKELETON IN BALL FIELD.

Players Unearth Bones and Call Police to Investigate.

Boys playing in the sand Wednesday morning at Sixth street and St. Louis avenue, East St. Louis, found the skeleton of a man buried there. They had been playing ball, and the "fins," not at bat, busied themselves digging in the soft soil.

The bones of a human foot were unearthed. The boys dug further and found the entire skeleton. The police were notified, and made an investigation. The skull showed a decided fracture.

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND DON'T KNOW IT

To Prove What Swamp-Root, the Great Kidney Remedy, will do for YOU, Every Reader of the Post-Dispatch may have a Sample Bottle Sent FREE by Mail.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease, therefore, when through neglect or other causes, kidney trouble is permitted to continue, fatal results are sure to follow.

Your other organs may need attention—but your kidneys most, because they do most and need attention first.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root will set your whole system right, and the best proof of this is a trial.

53 COTTAGE ST., MELROSE, MASS.
Jan. 11, 1904.

Dear Sir: "Ever since I was in the army, I had more or less kidney trouble, and within the past year it became so severe and complicated that I suffered everything and was much alarmed—my strength and power was fast leaving me. I saw an advertisement of Swamp-Root and wrote asking for advice. I began the use of the medicine and noted a decided improvement after taking Swamp-Root only a short time.

"I continued its use and am thankful to say that I am entirely cured and strong. In order to be very sure about this, I had a doctor examine some of my water today, and he pronounced it all right and in splendid condition.

"I know that your Swamp-Root is purely vegetable and does not contain any harmful drugs. Thanking you for my complete recovery and recommending Swamp-Root to all sufferers I am." Very truly yours,

I. C. RICHARDSON.

You may have a sample bottle of this famous kidney remedy, Swamp-Root, sent free by mail, postpaid, by which you may test its virtues for such disorders as kidney, bladder and uric acid diseases, poor digestion, being obliged to pass your water frequently night and day, smarting or irritation in passing, brickdust or sediment in the urine, headache, backache lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, heart disturbance, due to bad kidney trouble, skin eruptions from bad blood, neuralgia, diabetes, bloating, irritability, wornout feeling, lack of ambition, loss or flesh, sallow complexion, or Bright's disease.

If your water, when allowed to remain undisturbed in a glass or bottle for 24 hours, forms a sediment or settling or has a cloudy appearance, it is evidence that your kidneys and bladder need immediate attention.

Swamp-Root is the great discovery of Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist. Hospitals use it with wonderful success in both slight and severe cases. Doctors recommend it to their patients and use it in their own families because they recognize in Swamp-Root the greatest and most successful remedy.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is for sale at drug stores the world over in bottles of two sizes and two prices—fifty cents and one dollar. Remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

SPECIAL NOTE.—So successful is Swamp-Root in promptly curing even the most distressing cases of kidney, liver or bladder troubles, that to prove its wonderful merits you may have a sample bottle and a book of valuable information, both sent absolutely free by mail. The book contains many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women cured. The value and success of Swamp-Root is so well known that our readers are advised to send for a sample bottle. In sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure to say you read this generous offer in the St. Louis Daily Post-Dispatch. The genuineness of this offer is guaranteed.

RUSSIA DRIVEN NORTH OF THE YALU RIVER

Japan Has Completed the First Step of Her Campaign and Adds Strength of Her Campaign and Holds Strong Corean Peninsula.

COSSACKS SWIM THE RIVER IN RETREATING

Russia's Troops in Manchuria Said to Be in Good Health and Spirits, Eager for Active Operations Against the Japanese Invaders.

(Copyright, 1904, by the Press Publishing Co.)

The Japanese occupied Wiju on Sunday with a large force of cavalry and found that all the Cossacks had evacuated the place, swimming with their horses across the Yalu.

The most striking feature of this Japanese campaign, so far unfolded, is the way they are fortifying themselves in Corea. Their precautionary steps are magnificent. Russia boasts that she will drive them forever off the mainland. The Japanese reply by the most thorough military occupation of Corea possible to effect. They know they must hold their place on the mainland or shrivel into insignificance. They are therefore using every device known to military science or political propaganda to make that place secure.

In the first place, they threw a line of works across the peninsula from Wonsan to Ping Yang. Behind this almost impregnable line they can fall back should disaster overtake them in Manchuria or north Corea. Then they sent their armies forward and are now occupied in fortifying every important strategic point in the vicinity of the Yalu. When this task is finished, and it ought to be finished very shortly, we shall witness the next step.

The attempts to blockade Port Arthur are giving great trouble. The Russians are trying to break up the sunken ships with dynamite, but stones six feet in size are difficult of dislodgement.

The Tokio and Osaka divisions, which have been recently mobilized, are designed to besiege Port Arthur. The commander of 5000 bandits northwest of New-Chwang has told a British officer that he is prepared to destroy the railway immediately the Japanese land.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 6.—"All is quiet on the Yalu," is the report which Gen. Kachtalinky telegraphed April 5 to Gen. Kuropatkin, who forwarded the message to the Emperor.

An exchange of shots occurred between Russian cavalry and Japanese skirmishers near Wiju. The Russians sustained no losses. Five Japanese were killed. The number wounded is not known.

NEW-CHWANG, April 6.—Gen. Kuropatkin, commander-in-chief of the Russian military forces in the far East, arrived here today and reviewed about 4000 troops.

Russian secret service agents reported that the Japanese intended to attack New-Chwang yesterday.

Gen. Kondratovich, the Russian commander here, says he is now prepared for a Japanese attack, which it is evident the other authorities also expect.

The command of Gen. Kondratovich embraces the patrols west of the Liao river, and also the troops in the districts south, including Kai-Chou and north, including the railroad and Hai-Chong.

ALL JAPAN DOES HONOR TO MEMORY OF BRAVE HIROSO

BY GORDON SMITH,

Special War Correspondent of the New York World, Post-Dispatch and London Morning Post.

TOKIO, April 6.—The fragmentary remains of Commander Hiroso arrived here today. The brave Hiroso was blown to minute pieces by a shell from one of the fort Arthur forts. He commanded one of the Japanese vessels used in the last attempt to block Port Arthur harbor. He left his ship when it was sinking and heroically returned to search for one of his men who was missing.

What was left of Hiroso, a fragment not much larger than a penny, was brought to Tokio with great solemnity today. The remains were on top of a box which contained the ensanguined uniforms of those who was near Commander Hiroso and who were killed with him.

HOW TO PLAY BASEBALL

BY CHARLES A. NICHOLS, Manager and Captain for the Cardinals.

(These lessons, begun in the Post-Dispatch's Sporting Inaugural last Sunday will be continued daily to and including next Sunday.

Hints to First Basemen.

Practice catching with either hand, you will need the accomplishment.

Play deep in the field, so that you can make ground plays on the run.

Go after every fly ball near you—the captain will call if it is not yours to handle.

Lesson IV.—The First Baseman.

First basemen do not have to be tall.

Get over the idea that because you are not six feet you cannot play this position.

Small men, right and left-handed men, in fact, all sorts of physical conformations have held jobs at first. There the tall man has reach, the short man has activity and better fielding ability, as a rule.

A first baseman encounters moments when he would like to be all shapes at once.

By turns he is compelled to be infielder, outfielder, backstop, foul-fly chaser and accurate thrower. Much is required of him, so that the average man in physical build is perhaps better than any other.

The most important problem confronting the first baseman is his relation to the pitcher in playing the bag and the field. Many a man is safe at first through indecision of the first baseman in playing a grounder near first.

This is a matter to adjust with your pitchers. Playing deep in the field cuts off many a hit to the outfield, but on the other hand it makes the pitcher work himself hard to keep first base covered.

Generally, the second baseman can be relied upon to get such balls as are out of reach of an ordinary position back of first.

The pitcher must be given to understand what is expected of him in this respect, however. The play is always for the baseman to handle the ground balls and the pitcher to cover the bag.

The play in which the first baseman most often figures is taking the ball on throws from the infield. This requires an ability to handle pick-ups, and high and wide throws; occasionally it calls for accurate return throwing to the other bases.

In this latter respect the left-handed baseman has some advantage.

The first baseman must get used to the idea of a runner coming down at him, while, with one foot on the base, he is waiting for the throw. Occasionally it will be found beneficial to go out and meet the throw, rather than risk its going out of reach. Practice taking thrown balls on either hand as far as you can reach; also high-thrown balls, still keeping your foot next the base.

The proper place for the first baseman with first occupied is inside the bag, ready to chase in for a bunt as soon as the pitcher delivers the ball.

With first and second occupied he plays back of the base for possible grounders.

WHERE A TAP IS HARD.

One of the most exasperating features of the game with men on bases is the necessity of the first baseman to cover ground balls and at the same time be prepared for throws from catcher or pitcher.

With a man on first a tap down the line is a hard proposition. First basemen must never wait on a ball like this, but go in after it fast. Sometimes, especially with left handed first basemen, it is possible to head off the man at second. Usually it goes as a sacrifice.

In these cases an understanding with the pitcher must be had as to what balls he will cover and when he is to take care of the bag.

Another annoying feature is to keep tab on a pitcher who is repeatedly trying to nail a man off first. It is difficult to put it on the runner in time. Let the runner have a clean way to the bag and make your play to catch him through your speed in putting the ball on him.

A baseman's duty and a fielder's as well is always to be ready for the next play, after completing one. Consequently, when you have taken the throw to first, the baseman should have the field in his mind and get ready to head off with a throw any attempt on the part of runners to advance.

The first baseman and the fly ball is another problem. There are "lofters" that have to be called as between him and the second baseman, the rightfielder, the catcher and the pitcher.

The first baseman must be ready to care for balls in certain portions of the territory of all these players, however, and in the center of the wide circle of fair and foul fly territory.

Unless it is otherwise called, he should always care for flies that rise between himself and the pitcher.

One thing the first baseman must do—practice handling ground balls. Raps come to him, as to the third baseman, hot off the bat. They generally come with such speed that the question of running in on the ball is not of importance.

When you take your position with nobody on base, do it with the understanding that on all balls hit to his left the pitcher is to be ready to cover first base.

Play well back of the base line and deep. Then you can make all your plays on the run. When the pitcher covers first, toss the ball to the bag ahead of him. Don't wait for him to get there but have it where he can get his hands on it the minute his feet hit the cushion.

The first baseman must dovetail himself into and work with the infield. Practice together will do more than all the instruction in the world. Just to what extent your fellows can rely upon you, is the point you want to make apparent at once.

Don't neglect batting. This is required of every first baseman and outfielder in the business. If you can't hit your job is never safe at first.

HUMAN BAROMETERS

A Rheumatic Mystery

Here are some marvels of medicine!

A dose of Aconite will climax at three o'clock in the morning.

Aloes will operate at five o'clock a. m. and Sulphur at eleven o'clock.

No matter what time, in the preceding day, you have taken these medicines, they will climax at the fixed hours here stated and reveal certain symptoms always.

How do you account for this?

How account for a Rheumatic person's ability to predict a coming storm 24 hours ahead, by the peculiar ache in his bones?

Rheumatism is simply Uric Acid in the blood. Can Uric Acid have its time limit, like other chemicals, but reflecting backward like a barometer?

Uric Acid is due to a lack of Alkaline material in the blood. This Acid absorbs the debris, or waste matter, of the system.

It carries this waste matter into the blood, when there are not enough Alkaline elements (like salt or soda) to neutralize the Uric Acid, and to free the debris before it reaches the kidneys.

As the blood circulates through the system it then deposits small particles of this waste matter in the joints and muscles.

These particles are like granulated sugar, or sand, and they grind between the joints and muscles at every movement.

This grinding causes intense pain and inflammation, frequently. If the disease be not checked the inflammation will cause the Uric particles to be coated with a fleshy cushion, which in time grows to the joints as well. Then "bony joints" and crooked limbs ensue.

The only way to cure Rheumatism is to convert the Acid condition of the blood into an Alkaline. Then, to dissolve, and carry away, the deposits in joints and muscles.

Then, to get the digestive organs into a normal condition, so they will secrete without further help, less Acid and more Alkalines. Upon this condition depends cure, and the permanence of cure. But—it is useless to kill Rheumatism if we also kill the stomach in doing so.

Few drugs powerful enough to dissolve Uric Acid deposits are safe to take into the stomach. This is why so called "quick-cures" are dangerous.

Rheumatism is slowly acquired, and so a cure cannot be expected in a few weeks' treatment, and never by external applications. The first essential in a Rheumatic cure is safety,—the second, effectiveness,—the third, permanence.

In a medical experience of thirty years I have known but one remedy which combined these three qualities. It took nearly ten years of my life to discover and perfect that remedy.

The chief ingredient I found in Germany, and to this I added, subtracted from, and combined, until I now have a prescription on which I daily stake fortune and repute.

After 2000 test cases I found that "Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure" succeeded in 39 out of each forty cases. Then I decided it was safe to supply it on a month's trial, at my risk, to Rheumatic sufferers everywhere.

If it fails, the treatment and six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure, cost you not a farthing, and I bear the whole cost myself without question.

If it succeeds, the cost to you is but $5.50. This is no mere sample proposition, but a practical guarantee of success or no pay. Write me today—before you forget it, for my free Treatise on Rheumatism.

Address—Dr. Shoop—Box 2689, Racine, Wis. Simple cases often yield to one bottle of Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure. (Druggists $1) But all druggists do not supply it on a month's trial. You must write to me for that.

CABANNE JOLTED BY BOLD AUTO MAN

Henry G. Dunham, Society Man, Fined $10 in Dayton Street Police Court.

Henry G. Dunham, a young society man living at 3737 Washington boulevard, was fined $10 by Judge Pollard in Dayton street police court Wednesday morning for persistently riding in his automobile along the sidewalk in front of the home of Attorney Andrew Laughlin at 5648 Cabanne place.

The defendant and his attorney, Harry A. Blodgett, then left the court in the offending machine.

"It's bad enough to run automobiles on the streets the way they are run," ruled the judge; "but to ride on a sidewalk in one is utterably inexcusable."

Dunham had set up as his defense that Cabanne place, at that particular point, was impassible with mud.

In an egort to have the case dismissed, Dunham, through his attorney, wrote a letter to Laughlin, offering to pay the costs and write a letter of apology to each of several women in the neighborhood who had been annoyed by his riding on the sidewalk.

Laughlin readily consented and endeavored to have the case dropped. Judge Pollard, however, was not willing and insisted that the case be tried.

Cabanne place residents, subpenaed as witnesses for the prosecution, who failed to appear at the trial Wednesday morning were Miss Margaret Jackson, Miss Anna Bersner, E. L. Adrian and Walter Hock.

SUMMONED DEAD TO TESTIFY

Shrew Prosecutor Thrilled Jurors and Spectators by Imagining Murdered Man on Witness Stand.

CHICAGO, April 6.—Pretending to summons the specter of Cornelius Van Zandwick into court to testify against George Freeman, charged with murdering Van Zandwick, Assistant State's Attorney Barbour created a dramatic scene in Judge Chytraus' court this afternoon.

In an address to the jury Mr. Barbour pointed to the empty witness chair and said he had summoned the murdered man from the grave to confront the slayer.

As Mr. Barbour pointed to the spot where he pretended to see Van Zandwick sitting, he counted and described the wounds in the body of the dead man.

The defendants, the jury and the spectators gazed at the chair with fascinated interest, and Van Zandwick's widow and two children who were in the courtroom burst into tears. At the end of the speech Mr. Barbour again consigned the spectral witness to the grave.

Fearing the effect upon the jury, defendant's counsel protested against Mr. Barbour's methods as soon as the purpose of the attorney became evident, but the court overruled the objection.

Respite for James Brown.

ROBBED OF $1110 AND TROUSERS

From the pockets of his trousers which he carefully folded and placed under his pillow about midnight Tuesday night, C. C. Fancher, proprietor of a saloon at 104 St. Clair avenue, East St. Louis, reported to the police this morning that a burglar or burglars had stolen $1110.

Fancher, who rooms over his saloon, says he retired about midnight. When he awoke this morning his trousers were missing. Later they were found in the yard by a milkman, but the money was missing.

Fancher says he is sick today and he believes he was chloroformed.

And Then Decide for Yourselves Whether or Not You Will Try Vinol on Our Guarantee to Make You Well and Strong.

We, the Wolff-Wilson Drug Co. of St. Louis declare Vinol to be the most valuable and delicious preparation of cod liver oil, the greatest health restorer and strength creator we have ever sold in our store. Vinol is not a patent medicine, but it contains in a concentrated form all the vital principles of cod liver oil, without a drop of oil to upset the stomach and retard its work.

We hereby agree to refund your money if Vinol fails to create strength for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers, or after a severe sickness. Vinol cures hard colds, hacking coughs, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles.

In addition to the great good Vinol is doing in St. Louis we are constantly hearing from it in other places.

Mrs. W. T. Burns, National Correspondent W. R. C., writes: "I was all run down, no appetite, weak and nervous. Vinol worked wonders for me—made me well and strong."

Sheriff Barker, Chattanooga, Tenn., writes: "I suffered for years with chronic stomach trouble; all medicines and doctors failed to help me, but Vinol cured me completely."

That noted woman, Mrs. Rose Hawthorne Lathrop, writes: "Vinol restores appetite and will infuse new life and strength into weak women and children when everything else fails."

Mrs. Sarah J. Windrom of Chicago, grandniece of Alexander Hamilton, writes: "Vinol is a godsend to old people; it invigorates and strengthens as nothing else can."

Mrs. J. G. Brown of Anderson, Ind., writes: "Our daughter was given up to die in consumption, but Vinol cured her." Try Vinol on our guarantee. Wolff-Wilson Drug Co.

BRIDAL POSSE IN FULL DRESS

Bridegroom and Guests Left Nuptial Party to Chase Two Bold Highwaymen.

TRIED TO STEAL WEDDING FEE

A bridegroom and all of the male guests at a wedding, attired in evening clothes, and in the midst of the festivities following the ceremony, hastily formed a posse about 10:30 Tuesday night and joined Justice P. F. McKane of East St. Louis in a hunt for two hold-up men who had attempted to relieve the justice of his wedding fee.

The bridegroom was Charles T. Needham, aged 22, living in East St. Louis, whose marriage to Miss Myrtle Johnson, aged 18, took place Tuesday evening at her home on St. Clair avenue. Justice McKane performed the ceremony and remained about two hours afterwards.

He started home after 10 o'clock, and when he reached St. Clair avenue and Eighth street was confronted by two men, who demanded his money.

Instantly the justice turned and sprinted for the home of the bride, two blocks away, where he breathlessly related his experience.

The guests rushed out of the house and the men made a thorough search of the neighborhood, but the two men had disappeared.

CAN STAND WORKING, BUT THEY HATE WEARING CLOTHES.

Pained expressions appear on the faces of the usually happy Filipino tribesmen at the World's Fair. On their lower extremities they wear American overalls, which are chiefly to blame for the melancholy looks.

When the order was given to put on civilized garments and "get busy," the little brown men lost their native cheerfulness. They didn't dislike the labor, for they were tired of staying in the Cuartel Filipino, and they needed exercise. But they did object to wearing clothes.

There is plenty of work in the villages to be done before the opening of the Fair, and the Filipinos will be kept busy from now on.

It was announced yesterday that no extra admission fee will be charged visitors to the Philippine division, but admission fees will be charged at the entrance of the four Filipino villages, and there will be plenty of curious to buy. The surplus from the village gate receipts will go to the Exposition treasury.

Now Three-Cornered Tie.

Davenport's victory over Abel in the class B three-cushion tournament last night makes a three-cornered tie in the leadership race, Abel, Becker and Page have won four games and lost two. Davenport played in excellent stroke last night and won easily from Abel by a score of 25 to 19. He made two runs of three and got clusters of two several times. His average was .32. Abel's average was .22 and his high run 2.

"EXILED, AM I? SILLY!" SAYS MISS ROOSEVELT

"Did I Go to the Races? Yes. Did I Bet? Oh, of Course Not"—and Then President's Daughter Laughed Heartily at the Story.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Miss Alice Roosevelt is in this city, not to be a bridesmaid, not to receive at afternoon teas, not even to shop, and, of course, not because she has been banished from Washington—and Bennings racetrack.

She is simply here by order of the President of the United States. The order was issued Monday morning after Mr. Roosevelt had learned that his daughter had bet on the races at Bennings Saturday afternoon, and that a photographer had made pictures of her at the racetrack.

Yesterday afternoon she chatted with two of her girl friends in the reception room. She didn't know that Mon Amour, the horse she bet on last Saturday, only to lose, was then romping home a winner at odds of 5 to 1.

Mrs. Robinson was bidding good afternoon to a visitor when a reporter called. To an inquiry as to whether Miss Roosevelt was there, she said:

"Yes, Miss Roosevelt arrived yesterday afternoon.

"Of course she was not banished from Washington," said Mrs. Robinson, smiling, in reply to a question. Then she stepped to the door of the reception room, from which came the sound of laughter. Mrs. Robinson drew the curtain.

"Alice," she called in an amused voice, "how about your exile?"

Miss Roosevelt, in a light blue and white china silk waist, a dark blue skirt, and with her hair dressed low on her forehead, passed a box of bonbons to her caller and stepped to the door all smiles.

"Exiled, am I?" she said. "O, that silly talk! Why, it's absurd.

"Did I go to the races? Yes, we drove out Saturday afternoon to see the Spring Hunters' steeplechase.

"Did I bet? O, of course not," and Miss Roosevelt went back into the room laughing heartily.

"Tell us, did you win?" whispered one of the girls as she joined them.

"Sh! Sh-h-h-h!" was all that could be heard.

"Miss Roosevelt is only here on a visit," volunteered Mrs. Robinson.

"She hasn't planned to go to any social functions, and will simply see her girl friends in this city and will return to Washington Thursday."

MADE BLIND SEE AND LAME WALK

"HOPELESS" CASES ARE CURED

"Blind" Gallagher Forgot He Was Blind and "Crippled" Stewart Ran Like a Lamplighter.

Wednesday morning, as the clouds parted and the sunlight streamed through, an ashcart, drawn by two sleepy horses, was driven into the court at the rear of the City Hospital buildings. The cart was halted near the engine house, and the teamster began to load it with the night's ashes from the furnaces.

About the same time, the permanent patients and convalescents of the hospital began to take their seats in the airy corridor which serves as an entrance to both the reception room and the observation ward. There they sit and smoke their pipes and enjoy the fresh air. "Workingman" Stewart, who gets his soubriquet from his boast that he never did a lick of work in his life, was first. He hobbled in on his two crutches; for Stewart, for many years, has been unable to walk, and on that score has been maintained at the hospital. He swung himself carefully about and, groaning with pain, sank into a chair.

Next came "Blind" Gallagher, led carefully through the doorway by Detail Ryan, and, as he has claimed for several years, totally unable to distinguish daylight from darkness. He was assisted to a seat, and began to gossip with the "Workingman."

After them came others—half a dozen of them; some just out of their beds upstairs, others known as "chronics." All took their seats.

Out by the engine house, the ashman had finished loading his cart and now strolled across the court to the reception room to gossip with his friends, the hospital attaches. The cronies in the corridor made way for him as he came—all but the "Workingman," who was too lame to move, and Gallagher, who could not see him.

Blind Ran Unassited.

The sunlight was cheery and the breeze was balmy. The two horses hitched to the ashcart lowered their heavy heads and seemed to sleep. The hum of the hospital machinery and the traffic in the streets came with a subdued air.

Suddenly a mischievous gust of wind caught a scrap of paper and swirled it high up in the air and then down before the noses of the sleepy horses. They raised their heads, snorted, and began to plunge. The cronies in the corridor began to laugh.

Then the horses started to run. From the engine house they darted straight toward the drugstore; then swerved and started on a bee-line for the corridor.

The cronies gasped and then shouted; the horses came straight on. The cronies sprang up. "Blind" Gallagher, without waiting to call for Ryan, his helper, darted for the reception room; four of the others followed him.

The fifth, "Workingman" Stewart, did not follow. For a second he sat still, his crutches trembling under his arms. Then, as the horses were almost at the edge of the corridor, he sprang up, threw his crutches down, dashed his hat after them, and, with a yell, started to run. He dashed into the court, just as the horses stopped with their fore hoofs inside the corridor; he turned half around to see where they were, and at the same instant they swerved and started after him.

Stewart tried to dodge back; there wasn't room. He gave another yell, and started on a straight run. The horses snorted, and kept after him.

At the reception-room windows, "Blind" Gallagher and his cronies crowded close to watch the race. "Blind" Gallagher had a front position, and he laughed and shouted merrily, and clapped his knees, and called words of encouragement, first to the horses and then to the "Workingman," as Stewart made a dart for the open ambulance gate at the extreme corner of the yard, a good half block away. But Stewart did not need encouragement. He was sprinting like a Duffy, and McChesney couldn't have caught him. His lame feet and crippled legs were playing a tattoo upon the hard ground of the court, and never missing a lick. He got to the gate and a good dozen yards in front of the tiring horses, and dodged nimbly behind the fence.

"The 'Workingman' wins," shouted Gallagher, bringing his hands together gleefully. "Fellers, that's the best race I ever see." And, wagging his head and chuckling, led the way back to the seats in the corridor. He bent and picked up the crutches the "Workingman" had dropped. "Guess he won't want these any more," he laughed.

Hospital attaches hurried after the runaways and Stewart. They found Stewart leaning against the fence and blowing hard. The horses, quiet now, and ready to go to sleep again, were standing in Pine street. Stewart was both angry and frightened. Without a word, he walked back to his seat in the corridor, picked up his crutch, and "crawled into his shell."

Show Alarm and Then Groan.

"You look a lot like a cripple," said Ryan, coming up. "Why, you could give me 50 yards and beat me in a 70-yard race."

"He certainly can run," chuckled "Blind" Gallagher.

"Yes, and you certainly ain't blind," shouted Gallagher. "Here I've been leading you around and telling you whether it was daylight or dark; and here you stand at the window and watch the race and see plenty to laugh at."

Gallagher showed his alarm. Stewart grinned. Then both groaned.

A short while afterward, Ryan reported the miracle of the ashcart which had made the blind to see and the lame to walk, and the discharge of "Blind" Gallagher and "Workingman" Stewart as cured was ordered.

VICTIM OF GASOLINE STOVE.

Mrs. G. R. Lunte Burned Before Assistance Could Reach Her.

Mrs. George R. Lunte of 4508 Harper street was severely burned by the explosion of a gasoline stove Wednesday, while she was preparing lunch.

Her clothing caught on fire and she was burned about the face and arms while trying to put out the fire.

When she realized that she would be unable to do so, she called for assistance.

The flat was set on fire, but the flames were extinguished without assistance from the fire department.

J. M. Tierny Laid to Rest.

Funeral services for the late John M. Tierney, whose death occurred Monday at St. Rose's Hospital, South St. Louis, at the age of 42 years, were held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from the family residence No. 1421 North Newstead avenue, with burial at Calvary. Mr. Tierney was at one time Deputy Harbor and Wharf Commissioner.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

Patrick and Mrs. Nehill in Last Stages of Consumption Marvelously Cured by Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

"I caught cold," says Mr. Nehill, "and it settled on my lungs. Was not able to attend to business for four months. The doctor gave me up, and said I was going into consumption. I coughed day and night, my lungs pained me, I could not sleep, and lost flesh daily.

"I began taking Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, and gained five pounds in two weeks. I am 60 years old, and am now able to attend to my business as a blacksmith. My cough is cured. I am perfectly well, and can recommend Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as the best remedy and stimulant in the world, and I would not be without it.

"Mrs. Nehill caught the grip six years ago and it went into pneumonia, followed by lung trouble. She was sinking fast, but, thanks to Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, she was cured, and is as strong, healthy a woman as you would want to see."—Patrick Nehill, 368 Lenox Av., New York City.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

has cured thousands of just such cases—men, women and children given up to die of so-called incurable consumption. It not only drives out consumption germs and heals the lungs, but it builds up new tissue and renovates the entire system. It stimulates and enriches the blood, tones up the heart, quiets the nerves, invigorates and builds up the body so that it will throw off all disease of whatever nature.

"Duffy's" cures coughs, grip, pneumonia, bronchitis and all diseases of throat and lungs, indigestion, dyspepsia and every form of stomach trouble; malaria, nervousness, and all low fevers. Good for old and young; prolongs life.

"Duffy's" is absolutely pure, contains no fusel oil, and is the only whiskey recognized by the government as a medicine. This is a guarantee. It is used exclusively in 2000 hospitals. Every testimonial is published in good faith and guaranteed.

CAUTION.—When you ask for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. Unscrupulous dealers, mindful of the excellence of this preparation, will try to sell you cheap imitations and malt whiskey substitutes, which are put on the market for profit only, and which, far from relieving the sick, are positively harmful. "Duffy's" is the only absolutely pure medicinal whiskey. Sold in sealed bottles only; never in flask or bulk. NEFF'S PLURALITY IS ABOUT 2600

DEMOCRATS GET ST. JOSEPH

Municipal Ownership, as Applied to Street Railways, Wins a Significant Victory in Chicago.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 6.—Late returns show that Jay H. Neff, Republican for mayor, was elected by a plurality of close to 2600. All the Republican ticket, with the exception of William Bucholz for police judge, was elected, and the Republicans will have a majority in the council. Hugh Brady, candidate of both Democratic factions and the labor party for police judge, won by but 47 votes, and a contest is likely.

The cities and towns of Missouri and Illinois generally held elections yesterday. Special dispatches to the Post-Dispatch show there was little, if any, political significance to any of them.

In Missouri Kansas City went Republican by over 2000 votes because of the split among Democrats and St. Joseph went Democratic. Other results in Missouri were as follows:

Windsor—Republicans elected all of the aldermen. No other office filled.

Sumner—Anti-saloon ticket was elected.

Boonville—Entire Republican ticket elected.

Springfield—Entire Democratic ticket elected.

Jefferson City—The Republicans and Democrats divided honors, each party electing two aldermen and one member of the school board.

Joplin—The Republicans elected four councilmen and the Democrats three, making the city council a tie.

Higginsville—Democrats elected all the ticket except the mayor and an alderman.

Independence—Republicans, by fusing with the Citizens' ticket, defeated the Democrats for mayor, but the Democrats elected the rest of the ticket.

Results in other places were: Bethany, Republican; Bevier, Citizens; Brookfield, Republican; Booneville, Republican; Butler, Democratic; Clinton, Republican; Carthage, Republican; Clarence, Democratic; Houston, Democratic; Kirksville, Democratic; Lebanon, Republican; Monroe City, Democratic; Monett, Republican; Mexico, Democratic; Marshall, mixed; Nevada, Democratic; Oregon, Non-Partisan; Paris, Democratic; Poplar Bluff, Republican; Richmond, Republican; Richland, Republican; Troy, Democratic; Unionville, Republican; Warrenton, local issues; Washington, Democratic; Webb City, Republican.

In Illinois the most significant triumph was that of municipal ownership, the people approving a law to operate street railroads.

Springfield elected three Republican and four Democratic aldermen.

Cities and towns giving Democratic victories were: Altamont, Bradley, Carlinville, Charleston, De Soto, Edwardsville, Litchfield, Pana, Peoria and Quincy.

Those going Republican were: Arcola, Benson, Bement, Carbondale, Clay City, Casey, Dixon, Decatur, Eureka, Elk, Fairburg, Fountain Bluff, Grand Tower, Greenville, Hillsboro, Irvington, Kearney, Kewanee, Makana, McComb, Medora, Nashville, Olney, Ora, Pomona, Paxton, Pontiac, Richview, Rock Island, Saline, Tuscola, Toledo, Vandalia, Weaga and Yates City.

Places in which honors were divided between the parties were as follows: Galesburg, Harrisburg, Menonk, Martinsville, Marshall, Mount Olive, Mount Vernon, Nokomis, Odin, Taylorville, Virden and White Hall.

"JACK" M'ELLIGOT DEAD.

Familiar Figure at the City Hospital Succumbs to Pneumonia.

"Jack" McElligot, who has been a familiar figure at the City Hospital for the greater part of the 23 years that he has lived in St. Louis, died there of pneumonia Wednesday morning.

"I began taking Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, and gained five pounds in two weeks. I am 60 years old, and am now able to attend to my business as a blacksmith. My cough is cured. Mrs. Elizabeth Hanson Dead.

Mrs. Elizabeth Manson, aged 59 years, died Tuesday evening as a result of the grip at her home, 4431 South Broadway. She is survived by two daughters. The funeral service will be conducted by Rev. J. H. Gauss of the Carondelet Presbyterian Church Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, from the residence.

Car Derailed, Passenger Hurt.

In a collision at Twelfth street and Clark avenue Tuesday night between two crowded cars of the Tower Grove and Eighteenth street lines, both going at high speed, Frank Hickman, a telephone lineman, suffered a sprained knee and several bruises, and several other persons were slightly injured. The Eighteenth street car, on the rear platform of which Hickman stood, was thrown from the track.

Woman Attacks Detective.

"I want a warrant against a man who stole my recommendations," exclaimed Mrs. Elizabeth Pfaff of 4323 Farlin avenue as she entered the office of Prosecuting Attorney Williams at the Four Courts Tuesday evening. Asking that she specify, the woman became abusive and when Detective William Carr was asked to escort her from the room, he was met with blows from Mrs. Pfaff's umbrella rained about his head and body till, with the assistance of the janitor, she was overcome. She was taken to Emergency Hospital.

Two Stock Sessions Daily.

G. Herbert Walker who was elected president of the St. Louis Stock Exchange at the annual meeting Tuesday afternoon, has served the exchange in many capacities. Under his administration the exchange will meet from 10:30 to 11:30 each morning, instead of from 11:15 until noon. The exchange members, in voting the change of hours, decided to resume afternoon sessions from 2 to 2:30 each week day except Saturday. Other officers elected are: William C. Little, vice-president; B. C. Jinkins, treasurer; A. D. Grant, secretary; directors: H. B. Collins, H. F. Knight, J. H. Dieckman, Richard Singer and H. L. Stifel.

New Rural Post Route.

Postal authorities are considering the establishment of a fourth rural mail route from French Village, Ill. A postal inspector, in company with George Chatillon, substitute carrier for Rural Route No. 1, drove over the prospective route Wednesday.

DIVORCE WON IN TWO BRIEF HOURS

Two hours after filing suit for divorce in the Belleville circuit court Tuesday, Mrs. Lizzie Stookey, of No. 14 West First street was granted legal separation from George Stookey on the ground of desertion. It was the quickest work of the kind ever accomplished in St. Clair County, Judge Holder passed on the case.

Last January notes were found indicating the suicide of George Stookey, and it was believed that he had leaped from the Eads bridge.

He returned to Belleville a short while afterwards and his wife accused him of having concocted the suicide story for the purpose of frightening her. He denied the allegation, but did not resist her suit for divorce.

CONCERT AT HOTEL OPENING.

Building and Furnishing of the Jefferson Cost $2,500,000.

A promenade concert in the lobby Thursday evening will formally open the new Hotel Jefferson, Twelfth and Locust streets.

Representing an investment of approximately $2,500,000, having 450 rooms all fitted in mahogany furniture, with baths and large closets for each, with a lobby finished with imported marble at a cost of $165,000, a ladies' parlor furnished at a cost of $6000, a richly fitted writing room and an elegantly equipped main cafe, the Jefferson represents the most modern ideas in construction and furnishings.

A complete telephone system connecting all the rooms, a subpostal station with a mailing chute and three passenger elevators add to the provisions for the convenience of the guests.

A room at the back of the lobby will be used as headquarters by Col. John I. Martin, sergeant-at-arms of the Democratic National convention.

SEEN AND UNSEEN

Many people think of Scott's Emulsion as merely a flesh builder, but its flesh building is only an outward sign of the new life-building process within the vital parts of the body.

VASELINE NO GOOD FOR HAIR.

Dandruff Germ Thrives In It, as Well as In All Grease.

A well known Chicago hair specialist invited the Inter-Ocean reporter to come to his office and see, under a microscope, how the germ that causes dandruff thrives in vaseline. The specialist said that all hair preparations containing grease, simply furnish food for the germs and help to propagate them. The only way to cure dandruff is to destroy the germs, and the only hair preparation that will do that is Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Without dandruff no falling hair, no baldness. Ask for Herpicide. It is the only destroyer of the dandruff germ. Sold by leading druggists. BOUT WITH DEATH AND DEATH LOST

CLOTHING TORN TO SHREDS

For Three Minutes Leon D. Gruelle Struggled Madly on the Brink When Help Came.

For three minutes Wednesday morning, Leon D. Gruelle fought with death, and at the end won the battle.

Gruelle is a metal polisher, employed by the Degge & Musick Co. at 717-19 Market street. Wednesday morning he was at work on the second floor. He reached over to shift a belt which operated his machine.

As he lowered his hand, he felt his jumper tighten about his wrist with a jerk, and knew that he had been caught in the belt.

The belt halted an instant, but as the cloth of the jumper gave way it started forward at full speed.

Before Gruelle could reach up to the lever above his head and shut of the power, the torn shreds of the garment were caught again; and steadily the pulley belt strove to drag him into the crushing maw. He could not pull away; he could only hold with all his strength to his machine, and call for help.

He heard one of his fellow employes go dashing downstairs to the engineer, and heard others, struggling to reach him, call words of courage.

Piece by piece his jumper and undershirt were torn from his body to almost the last shred, and his chest and shoulders and face were drawn into the belt. When it seemed that he must yield and go whirling to death, the machinery suddenly stopped. The shouting messenger had reached the engineer.

Gruelle fell, unconscious, to the floor.

When the ambulance arrived, Gruelle was still helpless and had to be carried down stairs. His wounds were dressed at the City Dispensary, and he was sent to his home at 903 North Twentieth street. He will recover.

SIX MONTHS IN JAIL FOR BURTON

said he would leave St. Louis Wednesday night for his home in Kansas.

THE IRON CO. JAIL, WHERE BURTON WILL SERVE.

According to the rule of the Iron County jail, which shortens each year's sentence by three months in case of good behavior, Senator Burton's period of service there may be reduced to four and one-half months.

The Iron County jail is located opposite the courthouse, on one of the principal street corners in the county seat of Ironton, a pleasant little village of 1200 to 1400 population, 88 miles southeast of St. Louis, on the Iron Mountain Railroad.

The prison has more the appearance of a residence than of a penal institution, and Sheriff Polk makes his home there with his family.

The jail was designed to hold 20 prisoners, and is a two-story L-shaped brick structure, with stone floors and cells of steel.

The entire basement and the first floor of the east and west wings are devoted to cell rooms, and the sheriff lives and has his headquarters in the front part of the north and south sections.

The upstairs portion of the building is fitted with barred rooms for women and sick men prisoners. Each of the regular cells is provided with cots.

It is considered highly probable that Senator Burton, if confined here, will be given the liberty of a trusty and will live with the sheriff and his family.

The regular prison fare there is good, above the average for county jails, it is stated, and there is no rule prohibiting the sending of delicacies or household luxuries in to prisoners.

$500,000 LEFT TO ONE CHURCH

Income on Endowment Will Be Used in Evangelizing.

NEW YORK, April 6.—One of the largest endowment funds ever created for a church in this city has been formed by the will of Smith Lafayette Russell, a retired business man who died March 10. It will amount to $500,000 and the testator's desire is along the line of several recent moves to keep alive the church in the down-town district, from which many old religious institutions have moved in recent years.

The Duane Methodist Episcopal Church in Hudson street, on the lower West Side, is the beneficiary. During the life of Mrs. Russell, a portion of the income from the fund is to be paid to her. At her death the entire sum will be placed in trust, and the entire income, estimated at $25,000, will be expended in building up the church. Several Methodist charitable institutions also will receive sums of $5000 each.

Little is known of Mr. Russell and his wife outside their immediate friends and neighbors in Washington place, where they have lived many years, devoting much of their time to works of charity.

LAVIN CASE GOES OVER.

The cases of John Lavin, Jimmy Holmes, Police Sergeants John Berry, Patrick J. Kirk, Harvey Dorsey and Patrolmen Andrew Aylward, Timothy Flynn, Martin Carbery, Maurice Devine, John Mohr, John J. O'Connor, Frank Nally, Timothy Sullivan, Fred Kramer and S. L. Woods, all charged with misconduct at the polls on March 12, were continued in the court of criminal correction Wednesday to April 18.

Prosecuting Attorney Williams stated that the state would ask for juries to try all of the defendants.

LUCAS MEMORIAL STAKE AT KINLOCH

Material for the Event Is of High Class and Includes Ivernia, Joe Lesser and Other Fast Ones.

The one stake on the Kinloch list which will have the most interest of a sentimental nature will be the Lucas Memorial stake, at a mile and a sixteenth.

The stake, of course, is named in honor of the late J. D. Lucas, who was president of the Kinloch Jockey Club from its inception until his death. He carried it through the storms which accompanied its birth and through all its battles, only to die after it had reached a safe harbor.

The material engaged is of very good class, including such well-known performers as Ivernia, Joe Lesser, Lord Melbourne, O'Hagan, Sambo, Calthness, Imboden, Footlights Favorite, Light Opera, Lee King, Duellist, Count 'Em Out, Charlie Thompson, Mauser and Omdurman.

MOTHER AND SON DEAD.

Mrs. Sargent Followed Her Son an Hour After His Demise.

An hour after Arthur Sargent died at the City Hospital Wednesday morning, his aged mother died at their cheerless little home, 5187 Easton avenue.

Sargent's death was due to consumption. He had been in the hospital several weeks.

Mrs. Sargent died at about 5 o'clock Wednesday morning without learning of her son's death. Her death was due to general debility and is thought to have been hastened by her son's illness. He was her sole support.

L. Sinaigo & Co., for whom Sargent had worked, have agreed to bury both mother and son.

WROTE OWN DEATH NOTICE.

Mrs. Selma Jackson Thorn Then Passed Away at Daughter's Residence.

Mrs. Selma Jackson Thorn, widow of Dr. Edgar Thorn, died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Mary T. Hight, 5071A Vernon avenue, Tuesday.

Mrs. Thorn is survived by three children and several grandchildren. Six months ago, it is said, Mrs. Thorn dictated her own death notice.

There had been some comment over the notice announcing the death of an old friend. She called one of her grandchildren and dictated what she wished printed. Her wishes were complied with.

Allege Boys Snatched Purse.

Lewis Goldberg, 12 years old, and Jake Neiman, same age, both pupils of the Jefferson School at Ninth and Wash streets, are enjoying a lesson in prison life at the Four Courts as a result of a theft alleged to have been perpetrated by them Monday night. The victim was Miss Angelino Mauro, business agent of the local Garment Workers' Union. Miss Mauro was walking along Franklin avenue Monday night when two boys approached and snatched a purse containing $18 from her hand. Miss Mauro reported her loss to the police and the arrest of the two youths followed within an hour. The boys will be sent to the Juvenile Court for trial.

A DOUBLE ELOPEMENT.

A double elopement that was not planned in advance was one of the incidents of life in romantic Clayton Wednesday. The parties to the twin romance were Norman D. Stead and Miss Kate Murphy of Farmersville, Ill. and Paul H. Schaedlich and Miss Tina Becker of Staunton, Ill.

At Clayton, when they applied for the license, they declared that they left their homes merely for the romance of getting married at Clayton; that there was no parental objection, and that they were merely beginning their wedding tour a little early.

They declared that neither couple ever saw the other couple until both reached Union Station Wednesday morning. Then Stead and Miss Murphy overheard Schaedlich and Miss Becker inquiring the way to Clayton. This created a bond of sympathy between them, and they began a conversation, which resulted in both couples completing the journey together.

The young women looked to be of legal age, and the license was granted. Justice of the Peace Scoble performed the ceremonies.

BARRACKS BASEBALL.

Soldiers at Jefferson Post Will Play the Diels Sunday Afternoon.

The soldiers at Jefferson barracks are preparing for a great baseball season. A number of "guardhouse boarders" have been working on the diamond under the direction of Lieut. Rush Wells, chief baseball promoter at the post, and the grounds will probably be in excellent shape for the game next Sunday.

Sunday afternoon the Troop K team, which is one of the strongest amateur organizations in St. Louis, will play the Diels, one of the best of the local semi-professional organizations.

Mission Society Wants the Money.

The Swedish Mission Society of America is trying to secure a share in the $1,500,000 profits that have resulted from a gold mine discovered in Alaska by P. H. WOES IN FORTUNE TELLING

When W. M. Alford's Wife Advertised She Could "Pick the Winners" He Sought Divorce.

William M. Alford described the difficulties of being the husband of a fortune teller in Judge Sale's division of the circuit court Wednesday morning in seeking a divorce from Melvina Alford, to whom he was married in September, 1894, and from whom he parted for the sixth and last time May 1, 1903.

The first trouble of the couple was when Alford found that his bride was a divorced widow, instead of having buried a husband. Later when she advertised as being able to "pick the winners" for the races, he objected to the clientele it brought to the house. He removed from the city and sought other cures against that practice, to no avail.

The end came about a year ago, when he reached home one day to find the house crowded as though a reception was on, the drove the customers away and remained at home a week turning away prospective customers. This the wife resented and they separated again.

CROWD CRIED TO McCOY TO QUIT, BUT PLACKE DIED GAME

BY ROBERT EDGREN, The Noted Cartoonist and Authority on Pugilism.

"Kid" McCoy.

AT RINGSIDE, PHILADELPHIA, April 6.—Although the first blow in the second round knocked out Herr Henri John Josephus Placke, the giant from Holland will carry back to the old country some of the respects of the spectators. He was no "Mike" Morrisey or "Con" Coughlin. He died game.

Considered as a fight the affair was a farce from start to finish. There was only one moment of real excitement during the three minutes and 15 seconds that it lasted; that was at the start. Placke came from his corner on the run, lumbered fiercely at McCoy and lunged out with a wild swing. By some strange freak it happened to land on the side of McCoy's jaw, and the "Kid" staggered back, thrown off his balance.

The giant followed ponderously, and, heaving a huge fist forward, bumped it against McCoy's chest. The "Kid" fell against the ropes and nearly went through them. He looked pale and as nearly rattled as he ever becomes. When he scrambled up it was to back away, with the crowd was on its feet howling advice to For a single instant it seemed that beef and cunning. McCoy, sliding quickly away mountain, looked like some small frightmus. He quickly recovered from his scare and in the three minutes, cool, sneeringly, vicious he took a fearful revenge for the fright that he had endured.

Puts Hook on Placke's Chin.

When the bell rang the first hippopotamus rush of Placke opened the ball. He evidently thought he was a real fighter, but in a few seconds he and his backer from Holland got a painful surprise. When McCoy recovered from that preliminary scare the butchery started.

The first thing he did was to hook his left fist over spitefully against Placke's chin. He followed that with a smashing left on the Hollander's nose, making the blood spurt out. Placke staggered away shaking his head with an air that painfully showed he expected an apology. McCoy wasn't in an apologizing humor. He followed swiftly and hooked a terrible right across to Placke's chin.

The giant's legs bent under him and he almost sat down. He waved his extended left arm, like a half paralyzed tentacle and the Kid sneered in his face. Placke swung his right hand and sflut his eyes. When he opened them again he seemed to be surprised to see McCoy still before him unannihilated. The "Kid" stepped in and Placke tried to step away but became tangled with his feet. McCoy sent a left-hand corkscrew over to the Hollander's chin and the giant fell to his back with a thud that shook the platform. He got up and looked at McCoy with a baby stare of amazement. He didn't seem to understand this ungentlemanly method of boxing. As the Kid walked in toward him again Placke shut both eyes tight and waved his left arm about aimlessly. He pawed the air and McCoy stopped a moment to laugh at his antics, and then stopped laughing to drive a hard right against the Hollander's chin. Placke, with his eyes shut, reeled back and McCoy followed, hitting him time and again on the nose. Tiring of that he knocked the helpless "man-mountain" flat with a terrible blow on the jaw.

Placke, although he knows less about fighting than any tenth-rats pugilist scrapper, has courage. He managed to force his 250 pounds of flesh up from the floor and stood still, helpless as a pumpkin on stilts. McCoy came on again and Placke swung his arms feebly and tried to clinch. Cold as ice, sneering, McCoy beat him back around the ring. Placke's legs shook. McCoy crossed his right to the giant's chin and threw him heavily to the canvas. Placke lay on his side, extended half way from rope to rope.

"Take Him Off, Take Him Off!"

It might have been a tableau of David and Goliath. The bell rang. The Hollander's seconds piled into the square, gathered him up by the legs and arms and lugged him to his corner. The farce had become such a butchery that the crowd had stopped its laughing and was now calling, "Take him off; take him off."

Then came the second round. Placke's seconds boosted him to his feet and he stood in his corner. McCoy came over with a grin. Shoving his face close to Placke's bleared eyes he put on a ferocious expression. Placke started back, his belt had come loose and one of his seconds was still in the ring trying to pull it off. Placke looked down.

"Don't hit him," yelled the crowd. McCoy hesitated a second, then suddenly threw Placke's left arm out of the way with his right hand, hooked the left over on the giant's nose and sent him sprawling on the floor. It was a knockout.

"While this affair with Placke was too easy to base any form estimate on, McCoy showed that he is in fine trim, good enough to give either Fitzsimmons or Ryan or O'Brien, whom he challenged from the ring, a hard fight.

BEZENAH AND REGAN.

Match Has Been Arranged to Take Place April 26.

According to Johnny Reid, manager of Gus Bezenah, a match between that fighter and Johnny Regan has been arranged to take place April 21. If the fight comes off the public will at last have an opportunity to see what Bezenah can do against a real top-notcher.

Bezenah will fight Tommy Feltz in Chicago Saturday night and the general opinion is that he will beat Feltz, who seems to be on the decline.

CORBETT TO MEET TERRY McGOVERN IN PHILADELPHIA.

NEW YORK, April 6.—It is practically assured that Young Corbett and Terry McGovern will meet in a six-round go in Philadelphia some time next month. McGovern has been after a fight with Corbett for some time and publicly challenged the winner of the Corbett-Britt battle. Corbett said before the fight that he would give Terry a battle whether he beat Britt or not.

McGovern's manager reached an agreement with Young Corbett yesterday and it is probable the final details will be arranged in the next few days. Corbett says that he can beat McGovern in any number of rounds.

OLDFIELD AND HAUSMAN SUSPENDED BY AUTO BOARD.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Barney Oldfield and E. C. Hausman, who have been racing automobiles in the South, were suspended indefinitely by the racing board of the American Auto Association today.

The suspensions were ordered because the drivers competed in an unsanctioned meet at Savannah Feb. 15 and Birmingham March 8.

The racing board has decided to assume authority over all racing of high speed motor boats of the racing variety in America.

Jones Plays Dumont.

Henry Jones and Frank Dumont will play tonight in the state championship pool tournament at the Broadway. In last night's match Thomas McGowan defeated Gus Anderson by the close score of 100 to 99. Both men played a fast, clever game and McGowan gained a decisive advantage until the last few frames were played.

Cripps and Williams Matched.

NEW YORK, April 6.—It is announced today that Arthur Cripps, the Australian middleweight champion, has been matched to fight six rounds with Jack Williams in Philadelphia Friday night. Cripps has been much touted as a strong fighter, and there is much curiosity here as to what he can do. If he beats Williams decisively he will probably be matched with Tommy Ryan or Jack O'Brien.

SCHRECK-WOODS FIGHT A DRAW

Tonight's Fight Card.

At Philadelphia—Jim Jeffords vs. Gus Rublin.
Near Covington, Ky.—Barney Furey vs. Jack Bolan.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 6.—Mike Schreck, the Cincinnati middleweight, and Billy Woods, the colored boy who has been heralded a wonder, fought 25 rounds to a draw before the Colma Athletic Club last night.

The fight was a bitter one throughout, both men being battered and thoroughly exhausted at the close of the contest. Shreck's peculiar style appeared to bother Woods, but he got to Schreck often enough to split the purse.

Schreck may be matched to fight Kid McCoy here soon.

DIAMOND FLASHES

Where, O, where is that .392 batting average in the right field of the Browns. At present the average is .000, which for three games is not impressive.

David Brain has his eagle eye on the ball, but injured his ankle a trifle in Tuesday's game. Shay went in at short for three innings. Many fans would like to see Shay get a good tryout in this position.

The McAleer hard luck took another turn yesterday, when it was found that little "Cherub" Gleason's hand was in such bad shape that he could not throw.

Howell went to third and Demont to short. Howell did well enough under the circumstances, but fell down twice and batted weakly.

The Browns now have an infield that is strictly patchwork, and its game playing in the face of misfortune is worth noting. Wallace, Hill, Glade, Gleason—all out of the game. O'Connor and Swander are anything but in form. It is too bad the Browns can't put their best team in the field. Still the glory of winning 2 out of 3 is all the greater.

Padden is a rock in the citadel of the Browns, and a big one. Dick is playing fast in the field and hitting like mad. None of the newcomers can throw him out of a job on his present form.

Four more games remain to be played of the series, two on each grounds. Thursday's game will be played at Sportsman's Park, McAleer having won the toss. Saturday's contest will be played on the same field and Sunday's at the League Park. The Cardinals have in front of them the tough proposition of winning three out of four games in order to take the series. If the Browns can win two of the four, they take the laurels.

Sudhoff and Sievers will surely get one more try each, and Pelty and Wright are the other probable box artists for the Browns. This does not look so hopeless for the Browns, even though the club's batting order is shot to pieces.

Wallace and Glade were both in uniform Tuesday and may be expected to be in the game soon after the championship season opens.

Chronic Sores Eating Ulcers

A Constant Drain Upon the System.

Nothing is a source of so much trouble as an old sore or ulcer, particularly when located upon the lower extremities where the circulation is weak and sluggish. A gangrenous eating ulcer upon the leg is a frightful sight, and as the poison burrows deeper and deeper into the tissues beneath and the sore continues to spread, one can almost see the flesh melting away and feel the strength going out with the sickening discharges. Great running sores and deep offensive ulcers often develop from a simple boil, swollen gland, bruise or pimple, and are a threatening danger always, because while all such sores are not cancerous, a great many are, and this should make you suspicious of all chronic, slow-healing ulcers and sores, particularly if cancer runs in your family. Face sores are common and cause the greatest annoyance because they are so persistent and unsightly and detract so much from one's personal appearance. Middle aged and old people and those whose blood is contaminated and tainted with the germs and poison of malaria or some previous sickness, are the chief sufferers from chronic sores and ulcers. While the blood remains in an unhealthy polluted condition, healing is impossible, and the sore will continue to grow and spread in spite of washes and salves or any superficial or surface treatment, for the sore is the outward sign of some constitutional disorder, a bad condition of the blood and system, which local remedies cannot cure. A blood purifier and tonic is what you need—something to cleanse the blood, restore its lost properties quicken the circulation and invigorate the constitution, and S. S. S. is just such a remedy. It counteracts and removes from the blood all the impurities and poisons, and gradually builds up the entire system; and when the blood has been purified the healing process begins and the ulcer or sore is soon entirely gone. S. S. S. contains no mineral or poisonous drugs of any description, but is guaranteed a purely vegetable remedy, a blood purifier and tonic combined and a safe and permanent cure for chronic sores and ulcers. If you have a slow-healing sore of any kind, external or internal, write us about it, and our physicians will advise you without charge.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Wheeling, W. Va., May 28, 1903.

Some years ago while at work, I fell over a truck and severely injured both of my shins. My blood became poisoned as a result, and the doctor told me I would have running sores for life, and that if they closed up the result would be fatal. Under this discouraging report I left off their treatment and resorted to the use of S. S. S. Its effects were prompt and gratifying. It took only a short while for the medicine to cure up the sores, and I am not dead as the doctor intimated I would be, neither have the sores ever broken out again, and some 12 years have elapsed since what I have described occurred.

BULLS CONTROL MARKET, PRICES BEING HIGHER

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The market opened firm and with fair activity today. London came higher and strong with a very much improved sentiment as regards our securities, sending early orders amounting to about 30,000 shares on the buying side of the market. Consols are advanced 1-16.

The action of the Steel directors in declaring the regular dividend at the meeting yesterday afternoon had the effect of improving the market on that stock. While the earnings showed very poor, the March statement was a decided improvement over the previous months of the quarter and with the improved conditions in the iron market the outlook is better than for some time. At the opening there was lively trading, considerable of it in round lots. At the advance there was plenty of stock for sale and the first prices were the best for some time.

Bull tips on Amalgamated Copper were plentiful, the strength of the metal market both here and abroad being given as a reason for the advance. Boston was a heavy buyer yesterday, and the pool operators from that city appear confident that they will easily lift the price to 55.

The Brooklyn Rapid Transit employes are again becoming restless, and there is more talk of a strike unless certain concessions and increases in wages are granted by the company.

The demand for stocks in the loan crowd is only moderate, indicating that the short interest is not abnormal.

The trading for the first half hour was only moderately active and the price changes in that period immaterial.

The condition of the market for railroad bonds is shown by the announcement that the Chesapeake & Ohio has borrowed $4,000,000 on notes from Kuhn, Loeb & Co. for use in improvements. Although the notes bear 5 per cent, the price at which they are sold will, according to report, cost the company in the neighborhood of 6 per cent.

Trading lagged for a time, and prices sagged a trifle, but the general list showed only fractional changes. The declaration of the regular dividend on Atchison had a good effect, although this action was generally expected.

The market held strength remarkably well during the early part of the afternoon with trading that had the earmarks of manipulation connected with the dealings. Keene and Connor are said to be taking an active part in the present bull movement and there are the usual tailers on whenever any of the big operators take hold of the market.

Colorado Fuel was busier today than for some time and scored a good advance. The report from Colorado that the labor troubles in that state, which have seriously hampered the operations of the company, have been settled, had a good effect on the price, and from a low point of 28¾ yesterday the stock advanced to 32 today.

From New Jersey comes the news that an injunction has been applied for against the Northern Securities to restrain them from holding a meeting April 21 to reduce the capital stock and divide the assets of the company.

With Copper under pressure that sent the price down near the low point and Steel preferred in very active demand, the last of the session showed a good life. The movement in Steel discloses the fact that there is a large short interest in this stock and that the shorts are becoming rather nervous. Many of the sales were in large blocks and the market took the offerings without any lowering of the price.

The opening prices and changes were as follows: Copper, 50¾, advance ⅝; Atchison, 73½, advance, ¾; Baltimore & Ohio, 80¾, advance, ⅜; Brooklyn, 44¾, advance, ⅜; Erie, 26½, advance ⅜; Louisville & Nashville, 108¾, advance ⅛; Missouri Pacific, 93¾, advance, ⅜; New York Central, 116¾, decline, ⅛; Pennsylvania, 118¾, advance ⅜; Rock Island, 23¾, advance ⅜; St. Paul, 145¾, advance ¾; Southern Pacific, 50¾; advance, ⅜; Union Pacific, 88½, advance ⅛; Steel common, 11⅝, advance ⅜; Steel preferred, 59⅞ to 60¼, advance, ⅛ to ½.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Orders for large amounts of various leading stocks were in the stock market at the opening, causing quite a vigorous upward movement. There were 8000 shares of United States Steel preferred sold at 59⅞ and 60¼, compared with 58⅞ at the close last night. The common stock and the second mortgage bonds sold ½ higher than last night. The gain in St. Paul reached nearly a point, and in other stocks advances ran to large fractions.

The rise did not immediately proceed beyond the opening, profit taking sales forcing most of the important stocks back a small fraction. Trading became quieter on the reaction. Aggressive buying of the coalers, Pacifics, Atchison and Amalgamated gave a new upward impulse to prices and Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio, Erie and the first preferred, Delaware & Hudson, Lackawanna, Southern Pacific and Atchison advanced a point or more. Continental Tobacco preferred, Consolidated Gas, Tennessee Coal, Colorado Fuel, St. Louis & San Francisco second preferred, Wheeling & Lake Erie second preferred, Metropolitan Street Railway and Third Avenue rose 1 to 2. The market was easier in tone at 11 o'clock.

The rise was restricted by the announcement of heavy engagements of gold for export and by the laggard movement in United States Steel preferred and Union Pacific. The market started upward again. United States Steel preferred and the principal railroad stocks rallied to the best. Lackawanna gained 4¼, General Electric 2¼, Delaware & Hudson 2, Sloss-Sheffield Steel preferred and Lake Erie & Western 1⅜, and Missouri Pacific, Canadian Pacific and Chicago Terminal preferred a point or more. Buying decreased again before noon.

Bonds were firm at noon.

Various stocks were taken hold of and lifted slightly after midday, but there was no uniform movement upward until United States Steel preferred and Union Pacific came into demand. Gains generally were slight, but there was a good absorption of United States Steel preferred about 60. Atchison preferred, St. Louis Southwestern and Northwestern gained a point. Prices shaded off again with Amalgamated under decided pressure.

Fluctuations were narrow later in the day, with occasional spasms of selling in the Pacific and coalers. Not much stock was for sale, and the leaders returned a good portion of their earlier advances.

The bad effect upon the market of the backwardness of United States Steel preferred and Union Pacific prompted a bidding up of these stocks, the former gaining 2 and the latter 1. The sympathetic effect on the rest of the market was only moderate and the fall in prices was resumed. Lead preferred rose 2⅛. The earlier gains were thus largely reduced. United States Steel preferred hardened again to the best. The closing was slightly irregular.

DONOVAN COMMISSION CO. ON THE MARKETS.

ST. LOUIS, April 6.—It is a dead moral certainty that when wheat, corn and oats are hammered down by short sellers until they look as though the next minute the bottom would fall out, they are a buy for a good turn. Just size up today's markets if you don't believe it. While Chicago was busy at the polls yesterday the outside markets got gay and jumped on grain with both feet. Chicago opened up for business this morning, and after encouraging the selling side until a good enough line was picked up, then the screws were put on. Mr. Armour is the market, and when you sell you sell Mr. Armour, and when you buy you buy Mr. Armour, unless you play his game and buy on breaks and sell on bulges. That's all there is to it. I don't know how long this will go, but the program may carry clear into the new crops. Cash conditions are all out of shape and are affecting both actual supplies and speculation. The wheat crop is coming along fine, and corn and oats are going into the ground under favorable conditions. These may eventually rip manipulation up the back, but just now the best speculation is to trail along after it.

STRONG AGAIN ON LOCAL STOCKS

Transit Was a Light Seller Today, but Showed Strength in the Bidding.

INVESTORS ARE BUYING BONDS

There Is an Increased Interest in the Mining Stock Section.

There was another strong market at the opening session of the St. Louis Stock Exchange this morning. The early part of the session lagged, but later on a good demand appeared and a firm tone to the general trading was manifest.

Transit was a light seller only five shares changing hands, the price being $12. The stock was firmly held when the session closed. United Railways preferred was in better demand than the junior issue, 25 shares going at $54, an advance over the last sale, with an odd lot of two shares bringing $54.50.

There was an excellent call for the various bond issues, United Railways 4s going at $80.50 and $80.37½ to the extent of $10,000, and Lindell Railway 5s selling at $103.87½. East St. Louis city 5s brought $103.50 for a $2500 lot, and other issues were wanted at prices under the views of the sellers.

A renewed interest in the mining section was noticed, many of the inactive issues receiving support and Hope Mining selling at 25 cents for a 100-share lot and 23¾ cents for a smaller lot.

The afternoon session showed an active demand in the bank and trust company section with those stocks selling at advanced figures. Buyers and sellers of Transit could not get together, and the close showed no change in the quotations.

Missouri Trust moved up a peg to sales at $114.25 and $114.50, with Commonwealth unchanged at $247.50. In the bank section National Bank of Commerce brought $286 for a 10-share lot, and Merchanics was in strong demand, selling at $265 with urgent bidding for more at that figure.

United Railways preferred was the only traction issue that sold in the afternoon, the trading in that line being limited to 65 at $53.25, a decline from the earlier session.

BEARS HAD SOLD TOO MUCH

The Short Sellers in Wheat, Corn and Oats Receive a Touching Up.

ARMOUR MANIPULATION AGAIN

General Information Bearish, but the Markets Oversold and Prices Advanced.

After two days' control, in which the bears worked out declines of 2⅜c in wheat, 2¼c in corn and 1c in oats, on which they evidently sold too much, the markets were wrested from them and to a whipping finish they closed here ½@⅝c for wheat and ¼c for corn above yesterday. It was a clear case of Armour-manipulated markets, and though it was Chicago that received and responded first to the workings of manipulation, all other speculative centers, including the bear traders—St. Louis and Minneapolis—had to come to heed and follow in the wake of the Armour market. The news, more especially on wheat, was distinctively bearish, but that made no difference when the markets were oversold and a lot of shorts were to be run in. Advices on the weather and crops were highly favorable, foreign markets lower, and general information showing cash business in both wheat and flour bad. In the home market it was a case of "no wheat in and that couldn't be sold." An intimation from Minneapolis that flour business was better was the pretext that started the reaction. Little wheat, corn or oats came in here, but there was little demand and all sold lower, corn losing 1c.

WHEAT—Very near ideal weather for the growing crop, the only adverse condition rather low temperatures for season of the year, but the promise for a general warming up after the further good rains. These rains had favored the Southwest, too. Crop news was universally good, showing a strong healthy growth nearly everywhere. This weather-crop combination naturally continued bearish sentiment (it could hardly intensify it) in the local market and led to considerable selling. Foreign markets had declined still further, cables reporting Liverpool ⅜d and Paris ⅛@½c. Receipts were again very small, only 13,500 bu arriving. The bears, however, found an excellent demand for their offerings and as Chicago did not break as much as expected the selling pressure let up here and the market steadied and advanced. July opened ¼@⅜c lower at 81¼c and sold up to 81½c. September sold ⅛c lower at 79⅛c and later 79⅛@79¼c bid. May sold ⅝c lower at 93½c.

An unsettled and irregular market thence on to noon, with several dip in price when selling broke out on signs of weakness at other points, and rallies on stronger buying when encouragement held out by the chalk marks. July sold as low as 81c and as high as 81⅝c. September sold at 79c, and later 79¼c bid. May advanced to 84⅛c. Primary receipts were only 444,000 bu, but exceeded shipments of 315,000 bu. Clearances in flour and wheat were 322,000 bu, the best in some time. Closing cables reported Liverpool ⅝d and Antwerp ⅝d lower for the day, and Paris ½c higher, London off 1¼d since Thursday.

A break to 81¼c for July followed the noon hour, but soon followed by an upheaval under urgent buying that put the price to 82¼@82¼c, closing at 82¼c sellers. Bullish advices from the Northwest were given as the cause of the advance in Chicago, but it was undoubtedly Armour tactics and operations that started and maintained the advance. A number of local traders who had bought for a reaction gave their aid to the upturn by buying. May sold at 94¼c and 94⅝c bid at close, when 79⅝c bid for September. Late cables reported declines of ⅝c in Berlin and 1¼@1½c in Buda-Pesth, but the seaboard advised of 14 loads.

Cash market—Lower and dead dull. Not much was offered, but demand so insignificant that most carried over. By sample, delivered—No. 2 red sold at 98c for Western and $1.06½ for choice near-by; No. 3 red at $1.01 and Western quotable at 95c; No. 4 nominally 80c to 92c; No. 2 hard 90@93c; No. 3 hard 86@90c, selling at 90c; No. 4 hard 81@85c; No. 2 spring sold at 90c.

CORN—Not much attention was given corn this morning, neither Chicago or Liverpool exhibiting the weakness that developed here yesterday. Liverpool opened ⅛d lower and then advanced ⅛d. The receipts were small, but 35,100 bu having come in, and soft weather after more rain. There was, however, more disposition shown to sell than to buy in the home market, and after opening ⅛c lower, at 48⅝c, July sold at 48⅛c. September was offered at 48⅛c.

This market was as unsettled as wheat during greater part of the forenoon, July selling off to 48⅛@48⅜c, up to 48⅝@48⅝c bid. May opened ⅞c lower at 47c, sold up to 47⅝c, back to 47c and later 47⅝c bid. Primary receipts were 617,000 bu and shipments 303,000 bu, the clearances 46,500 bu. Liverpool closed ¼d higher for the day.

Cash market—Lower, declining 1c, and demand limited at that. Too high for shippers and little local demand. Basis local—No. 2 at 49½c to 49c, No. 3 at 49c to 48½c, No. 4 at 45c, No. 2 yellow at 51c, No. 2 white at 49c, No. 3 white at 48½c. Destination—No. 2 at 50c to 49c, No. 3 at 48½c, No. 2 white at 50c to 49½c, No. 3 white at 49½c to 48½c.

OATS—Although receipts of 27,000 bu were larger than those of yesterday, there was no evidence of an increased movement to market. The future market was dull, bid of 40c for May, and an offer to sell July at 37⅞c, resulting in no trading.

Later in the forenoon May was offered at 39⅝c and July at 37½c. Primary receipts were 690,000 bu and shipments 588,000 bu. Nothing cleared.

Cash market—Lower, little demand, that entirely local. By sample on track—No. 2 at 43½c, No. 3 at 41½@42c and color at 43c, No. 4 at 37c, No. 2 white nominally 46@46½c, No. 3 white at 44½@45c, No. 4 white at 40½@44c and barley mixed, 37c.

Trade Topics.

According to Bradstreet's figures the available supply of wheat east of the Rockies decreased during March about 7,100,000 bu, of which 2,540,000 bu in the official visible, indicating 4,560,000 bu decrease at points outside the visible. During same month last year the total decrease was 9,080,000 bu, of which 4,800,000 bu in the visible, indicating 4,280,000 bu decrease at outside points. European supplies increased last month 4,600,000 bu, where they decreased 900,000 bu for same month last year. In amount on ocean there was 5,250,000 bu increase last month.

Spring weather in England, American offerings of winter wheat and continued liquidation caused wheat to open easy at Liverpool, prices there declining still more, but rallied somewhat on a relaxing of the selling pressure. Corn opened unchanged, but advanced later, largely on a better demand for dry American corn on spot.

Here are samples of the reports now arriving from the principal wheat-raising sections of Kansas: Fredonia had good rains and prospects very fine for wheat. Have 120 acres in wheat and would not ask for a better showing, and neighbors' fields just as good. Some corn planted, but larger part yet to be put in. Jewell City—Wheat seldom had better stand. Excellent outlook. Weather perfect.

Liverpool grain house cables that wheat steady for spot, but futures declining because of favorable weather and an absence of speculation. Corn firm with a good demand for some sound merchantable quality. Cargoes arriving heated and discolored.

Jones of the Commercial West wires: "Weather bright and prospects fine for seeding over most of the area." He might have added that after steady hard freeze all winter the ground is in splendid condition to start the spring wheat crop in unusually good shape.

FLOUR—Millers look for a general closing down of both hard and soft winter mills. There are no signs to indicate domestic demands are coming any better, and export sales are simply impossible. Quotations on soft winter in wood: Patents, $4.90@5 and special brands 20@25c higher; straights, $4.75@4.85; extra fancy, $4.60@4.70; clears, $4@4.25; medium and low grade in jutes: Patents, $4@4.10; straights, $3.80@3.90; clears, $3.10@3.30; lower grades, $2.50@2.75. Spring wheat patents, in bulk, $4.60@4.75.

MILLFEED—Little offered and very little demand; market quotable basis east track in 100s: Bran at 78c for hard and 80c for soft winter; mixed feed at 80@81c for hard and 82@83c for soft winter; mids at 85c to 95c, according to quality. At mill bran jobs at 85c and ships.

HAY—Small supply of the best feeding grades and these quick sale at stiff prices. No. 2 and lower qualities very slow sale. Market basis east track: Timothy—Choice, $13.50@14; No. 1, $11.50@13; No. 2, $10@11; No. 3, $7@9. Clover—$10.50@11 for light and $9@9.50 for heavy mixed. Prairie—No. 1 or choice, $9.50@10; No. 2, $8@8.50; No. 3 or low, $9@10.

STRAW—On track: Wheat and oats, $6@6.50; rye, $9@10.

FLAXSEED—St. Louis—Nominally $1.03; none offered.

Duluth—May, $1.16⅛ b; July, $1.17⅝ b.

GRASS SEEDS—Per 100 pounds: Clover, $4 for trashy and $9@9.75 for good; timothy at $2.40 to $2.60; redtop at $1 to $3; Hungarian at $1.25 to $1.50; millet at $1 to $1.50.

PORK—F. o. b.: New standard mess jobbing closed at $13.05.

BACON—Boxed s. c. meats jobbing: Breakfast bacon at 10c for heavy to 13½c for choice light; hams, 10⅝@11½c; California, 7½c; New York shoulders, 7⅛c. Plain smoked boxed lots jobbing: Extra shorts, 7⅝c; ribs, 7⅝c; short clear, 7⅞c; bellies, 8@9c; plates, 9¼c; fat backs, 6⅛c; standard backs, 7c.

COUNTRY LARD—Quotable at 5½@6c.

COUNTRY BACON—Shoulders, 6⅛c; sides, 8c; hams, 10c.

OLEO-STEARINE—Nominal at 6⅛@6⅝c.

TALLOW—Country—No. 1 run, 5@5⅛c; No. 2 do, 4@4½c. Packers' prime, 5⅛@5⅛c.

GREASE—Small irregular lots country: Brown, 3⅛c; yellow, 3⅝@3⅛c; and white, 4⅛c to 4½c—latter for choice. Packers' stock nominally: Brown, 3⅜@3⅞c; yellow, 3⅞@4⅛c; white, 5@5⅛c.

HOT TOMALES CAUSE STABBING

Vender Who Would Not Exchange His Wares for Wienerwursts Receives Severe Wound.

An argument which started over hot tamales and weinerwursts in the saloon of James Halbert at 1427 Old Manchester road fatal stabbing of John Whittaker, a tamale fatal stabbing of oJhn Whittaker, a tamale vender, by David Powell.

Powell wanted to exchange a nickel's worth of tamales for a weinerwurst sandwich, to which Whittaker refused to consent. The argument which followed ended in the stabbing. Whittaker was struck in the abdomen with a knife.

Powell escaped, but was caught early Wednesday morning and is being held pending the outcome of Whittaker's injuries.

BULLETS' POISONOUS EFFECTS

Kiely and Blong Suffer From Wounds Inflicted by Man Who Lost His Life.

The bullets used by Willis Silence in the fight that caused his death March 12 have had a poisonous effect, and John Kiely, son of the chief of police, and Andrew Blong, Jr., who were wounded by Silence's bullets, are in a critical condition from blood poisoning.

Kiely, who shot Silence in self defense, had first been shot in the finger, and Blong received a glancing shot in the abdomen. Kiely's whole forearm is now badly swollen and had to be opened at the elbow to afford relief. It was feared that Blong would not recover from his injuries when poisoning developed, but he is now better.

ANTI-FOLK FORCES PANIC-STRICKEN

State Machine Casting About for New Candidate to "Head Off" Circuit Attorney.

SEN. COCKRELL CONSIDERED

Defeat of Kemper in Kansas City Removes Strong Factor of Reed's Support.

To what extent the defeat of W. T. Kemper, regular Democratic candidate for mayor of Kansas City, may affect the gubernatorial situation, political students are uncertain.

Kemper's nomination was coincident with the bolt of the Shannon-Walsh forces, whose cause was espoused by George T. Shelley, the "Home Rule" candidate.

Neither Shannon nor Walsh expected Shelley, who polled only 2500 votes, to win. Their prime object was to defeat Kemper and thus give a black eye to the supporters of Mayor James A. Reed.

In the election of J. W. Neff, the Republican candidate, the control of the City Hall machine is practically taken from the Reed men, and now Reed must make a desperate effort to get a delegation from his own city to the state convention.

In this, it is believed, Circuit Attorney Joseph W. Folk has gained a material advantage.

Shannon, Walsh and the friends of Shelley are backing Folk, and now that they will not have the municipal machine to contend against in the coming state primaries, they expect to make a good showing.

No Unit Rule in Kansas City.

Jackson County, in which Kansas City is located, is entitled to 45 delegates. If Mr. Folk can secure any fraction of this delegation he will have achieved a material victory. If Reed should lose even a part of the delegates, his chances would be greatly lessened.

The Shannonites dominate the county committee, which has decided that it will not abide by the unit rule adopted at the meeting of the Democratic state convention, whereby the candidate receiving a majority of the delegates is entitled to the entire delegation.

So much for Kansas City.

The Folk supporters assert that conceding Kansas City and St. Joseph to the opposition, he can win easily.

These two cities have a total of 66 delegates. Mayor Reed already has 33, so that in the event of his success at St. Joe and Kansas City he will have an aggregate of 99 to his credit. Mr. Hawes has 111, so that in all the opposition could claim 178 delegates.

Mr. Folk has a little more than half that number at the present time, but he relies on the smaller counties to swing things his way.

The tabulated returns show that Mr. Folk has carried 22 counties, while the opposition must be content with five.

Tidal Wave Sets Toward Folk.

Folk has won by overwhelming majorities. The opposition barely scraped through in the counties where it won.

It is conceded that outrages connected with the St. Louis and St. Louis County primaries have done Harry B. Hawes irreparable injury.

It is also admitted that the attack of Gov. Dockery upon Folk has immeasurably harmed Reed, Gantt and Hawes.

As a result there is a literal tidal wave toward Folk and the machine is panic-stricken.

The rumor has been current the past few days that an effort would be made to induce Senator Cockrell to consent to the use of his name for the gubernatorial nomination. Conferences to this end are said to have been held at the Southern hotel.

All of the leaders, when questioned about the matter, denied most emphatically that any such movement was contemplated.

Politicians who ought to know declare that under no circumstances will Senator Cockrell become an aspirant for the governorship.

Too Wise to Be Caught That Way.

"The suggestion," said one of the senator's friends Wednesday, "is ridiculous. Senator Cockrell has a wise head, much wiser than some of our machine politicians think. As matters now stand, he is a trifle suspicious of the men who are putting him forth as a presidential nominee. Everybody knows that movement was not started in sincerity. No outside state has paid the slightest attention to the Cockrell boom. He will hardly get the votes of more than one or two states. What he wishes is to return to the United States Senate."

That the machine is casting about for a new candidate to stop the Folk wave is undoubted.

Excise Commissioner Selbert held a long conference with Senator Stone at the Southern Tuesday night. Selbert is very much worried over the turn affairs have taken. He is particularly solicitous about State Auditor Albert O. Allen, who is a candidate for re-election.

Two months ago Selbert gave out the impression that he was for Folk. Mr. Folk's friends believed that this was because the people of southeast Missouri, Selbert's home, are almost unanimously for Folk.

But the moment Selbert felt that Folk's chances were jeopardized he leaped back into the machine bandwagon.

It is believed in political circles that Selbert wrote for Dockery the letter denunciatory of Folk, which followed soon after the latter criticised the governor in connection with the St. Louis primaries.

Selbert wrote the interview in St. Louis, so the story goes, and took it to Jefferson City. At first Gov. Dockery hesitated to "stand for" it. Selbert and Cook both urged him to do so, and after two hours of debate the governor is said to have acquiesced.

SOLDIER'S BRIDE UNFORGIVEN

Jefferson Barracks Clerk Marries Girl of 19 in Spite of Parents' Objections.

Though their license to marry was issued at Clayton March 31, friends of Lewis C. Meak, chief clerk in the office of the adjutant general at Jefferson Barracks, and Miss Alice Emkins, living at No. 2332 South Jefferson avenue, did not learn of their marriage until Tuesday.

The bride's father said this morning that he knew nothing of the marriage and did not know where his daughter is. Meak is chief clerk in the office of the adjutant at Jefferson Barracks.

Mr. Emkins' objections to the marriage were based on the age of his daughter, who is 19 years old, while Meak is 35. The parents say they do not intend to forgive their daughter.

A telephone message from Jefferson Barracks said that Meak is in St. Louis.

LIKE A CURSE REMOVED

(Class of Mrs. J. M. Daniels of Winchester, Ky.—completely cured by D. D. D. after 7 weeks' application. She had suffered fifteen years.)

See the same features—but note how different when brightened with hope and happiness, after her freedom from it all.

Reader! This is more than medicine talk. It is humanity to enlighten sufferers about this.

The most virulent skin diseases are conquered—every time—in all cases—without any exception—all cleared away in a few weeks—by the brilliantly clever new skin prescription, "D. D. D." Its work is hardly equaled by any other wonders of modern medical practice.

We guarantee this to be true

Enough has been proven to us—regarding the above case and hundreds of others—to demonstrate beyond all question whatever that any of the known forms of skin disease—any eruption or breaking out—must quickly give way and disappear under the influence of this prescription (known as "D. D. D."). Cases of Eczema, Salt Rheum, Ring Worm, Psoriasis, Barber's Itch, Acne, etc., some of twenty years' standing have been cleared off and permanently cured in a few weeks. In several cases from one to five years have elapsed and there has been no returning sign of the disease. Hundreds of cases cured since the preparation has been placed on sale show no sign at all of the previous affliction, and we fully believe they are permanent cures.

Have you been—or do you know anyone who has been—in a living hell of torture with a skin disease? Dispair usually seizes those so afflicted. Many imagine it is in the blood and too subtle to cure. Doctors have stood baffled and helpless against Eczema. Half of them think its worse forms are blood poison. Ninety-nine cases out of a hundred of manifestations on the skin are purely local—SKIN disease—not BLOOD disease. Healthy blooded people break out as often as any one, the blood has nothing to do with it in most cases. It is a parasite in the skin that spreads. This prescription is today completely clearing away—quickly too—and permanently curing every trace of such parasitic trouble and leaves the skin soft, healthy and perfect. Call on the above druggists and investigate the unquestionable proofs in their possession.

We not only sell at retail, but also supply druggists at wholesale prices. D. D. D. costs but $1.00 a bottle and is guaranteed to cure or money refunded.

CLEVELAND, GORMAN, COCKRELL JOIN HOSTS FOR PARKER

GORMAN URGES HIS FRIENDS TO ASSIST PARKER

"I Cannot Secure the Nomination—Go to Work for Him—I Would Prefer My Friends Favor Him to Exclusion of Any Other Candidate."

THUS, FINALLY AND FORMALLY, HE RELEASES HIS SUPPORTERS

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—"I cannot secure the nomination. Go to work for Parker, I would prefer that my friends favor him to the exclusion of any other candidate. Let no other man step in and beat him. If the convention should decide that I should be nominated, then well and good. But otherwise I prefer Parker, our next President."

This was the statement made by Senator Gorman to three of his Democratic associates in the Senate today, who had called upon him for an exact presentation of his position. Thus Mr. Gorman has finally and formally released his friends in the Senate who have been in favor of his nomination and advised them to get into line for Parker.

Mr. Gorman's scheme was generally anticipated and caused little surprise. During the last month he has not been reckoned on at all as a seriously active candidate, yet he continued up to today to command some strength. All of it now goes to Parker.

Stone Is the Only Anti-Parker Senator.

Every Democrat in the Senate, with the exception of Senator Stone of Missouri, who has gone West to promote the Cockrell boom, favors Parker.

Senator Bailey of Texas was probably the last man in the Senate to switch from Gorman to Parker. He has been a consistent Gorman man, and in the absence of a statement of position by Mr. Gorman has steadfastly clung to the Gorman cause, but he is now free to acknowledge that Gorman is no longer to be considered as a possibility and that Parker is the man.

Great regret is expressed by many of Senator Gorman's colleagues in the Senate that he should allow himself to be eliminated by circumstances rather than to withdraw himself.

Already the Democrats of the Senate are organizing compactly on issues with which to fight President Roosevelt with Parker.

Mr. Gorman promises that he will deliver a speech in the Senate within the next week on the postal frauds, and Senator Simmons and others will follow. Mr. Gorman and his colleagues believe that the postal cases will be a live issue in the campaign, and they purpose presenting the whole facts to the country and laying stress upon the unwillingness of the Republicans to permit a congressional investigation.

Mr. Gorman will view the postal frauds from a strictly party standpoint. He will show that out of all the persons indicted Machen was the only Democrat, and that, in all the cases excepting that of Machen, the frauds were committed after the first inauguration of President McKinley and during a complete Republican administration.

Judge Parker, if nominated, will go before the counttry with the postal cases and the general subject of official corruption in Washington as a leading issue.

CLEVELAND HAILS PARKER AS MAN TO LEAD PARTY TO SANE DEMOCRACY

PRINCETON, N. J., April 6.—Former President Grover Cleveland approves of Judge Alton B. Parker as the candidate of Democracy for the Presidency. In an interview with a staff correspondent of the New York World and the Post-Dispatch he unequivocally indorses the jurist's candidacy as a movement to reunite the party and achieve victory. He says:

"The recent movement looking to a concentration upon Mr. Parker's candidacy afforded me the greatest possible relief and satisfaction, not only so far as my personal comfort is concerned, but as a Democrat anxious for my party's supremacy and delighted with the prospect of its return to sanity and patriotic effort.

"I do not see how any one professing to be a real, intelligent Democrat can hesitate to accept Mr. Parker, if he should be nominated, as a fit representative of safe, conservative Democratic principles, entitled to hearty and unreserved Democratic support.

"Some of us may have been of opinion that another nomination might be more expedient, but that should be a mere matter of opinion which should pass out of sight immediately if the choice of the convention should fall upon Mr. Parker.

"Feeling assured, as I do, that a nomination will be made representing true Democratic principles, I am only concerned about the platform which will be presented to the people with our candidate.

"It should be remembered that the more unobjectionable the candidate we select the more will our opponents be driven to search for campaign material in our platform declaration.

"I don't believe that I can be mistaken in my conviction that in this campaign, of all others, our platform should be short and to the purpose. There have been campaigns in which platform makers have indulged in useless, foolish vagaries in safety.. There may be such campaigns again, but I know this is not one of them.

"There are certain Democratic doctrines believed in by that conservative element of the party which will control at St. Louis. These doctrines should in no event be evaded.

"Such of these as appear to furnish at this time the most vital campaign issues should be given the greatest prominence and should be announced in such a way as to exclude all doubt as to their meaning and all appearance of compromise. In other words, there are certain lines of battle which promise better than others, successful results. These lines, having been carefully selected and plainly marked out, should be followed persistently and with faith and enthusiasm.

"I earnestly hope that our platform will be short, so short that the voters will read it. I hope that in this platform our party will say precisely what it means, and that every word it contains will bear its share of meaning in a declaration of principles free from doubt, evasion or disingenuous compromise."

friends have seen fit to suggest my name for the great Democratic nomination, and doubly so because it has come unsolicited by me."

There is one carefully guarded secret in relation to the Cockrell presidential boom. It is likely that Stone never had any intention of getting the Missouri delegation for his colleague. He only wanted to use him as a "favorite son" long enough to kill Hearst and Bryan. Cockrell's interest was a little different. He expected opposition as a senatorial candidate and thought he would be in better position to ward off rivals if he occupied a public place as a presidential candidate.

These were generally understood by politicians, although Senators Stone and Cockrell never would admit the reasons. But there was something to be accomplished far beyond these.

David R. Francis wanted to get something which neither Stone or Cockrell wanted him to have. He was willing to be talked of for the presidency and might have been agreeable to becoming Cockrell's successor.

The two United States senators from Missouri decided that their interests demanded the suppression of Francis' ambitions.

COCKRELL ALSO FAVORS THE NEW YORKER'S NOMINATION.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The Post-Dispatch correspondent is informed today by authority that although Senator Cockrell of Missouri is ostensibly a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President, he is really heart and soul in favor of Parker and believes that Parker will be nominated.

Mr. Cockrell's sole object in allowing his name to be mentioned in connection with the nomination is to avoid a contest at the election to succeed himself as senator. His present term expires in March, 1905. Mr. Cockrell and his friends believe that by arousing sentiment in Missouri in favor of his nomination for President he will gain in prestige to the extent that, if any opposition to his re-election to the Senate exists or develops, it will be suppressed.

Mr. Cockrell is known to expect the nomination of Judge Parker, and it is more than likely that, in the event of his re-election to the Senate becoming assured, he will not consent to the plan of delivering a complimentary vote in his behalf by the Missouri delegation at the national convention.

In conversation with friends today Mr. Cockrell indicated this position. He expressed great surprise that Mr. Gorman had so utterly dropped out of the race, and said that, in his opinion, the main cause of the rapid development of Parker sentiment in the last month was the belief that Parker could effect harmony in the party's ranks, coupled with the fact that his personality would be in such direct contrast with that of the prospective Republican nominee that the Democratic party would be the gainer through his nomination.

Mr. Cockrell said that the single disappointing feature up to date is the fact that Mr. Bryan had aligned himself with a candidate other than Judge Parker. He thought this "appalling," to use his own expression, and manifested keen disappointment that Mr. Bryan, whom he regarded as a man of culture and high ideals respecting citizenship and its duties, should have become associated in opposition to Parker.

When Mr. Cockrell was seen by the Post-Dispatch correspondent today he said:

"I have nothing further to say than what I have already written to my people—that I am a candidate for re-election to the Senate. I am pleased that my

GOVS. VARDAMAN AND HEARD DECLARE FOR JUDGE PARKER.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW ORLEANS, April 6.—Sentiment developed strongly here today when Governor Heard of Louisiana and Governor Vardaman of Mississippi met in the St. Charles Hotel and publicly announced themselves for Parker.

LOFTY TRIBUTE TO PARKER'S MANHOOD BY A BENCH ASSOCIATE

Judge O'Brien Says: "He Is Essentially Conservative, Firm in His Views but not Obstinate and Fully Equipped for Any Public Trust."

BY JAMES CREELMAN,

Special Corespondent of the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 6.—Judge Dennis O'Brien, who for seven years has sat with Chief Judge Parker on the bench of the Court of Appeals, consented today to speak about the character and capacity of the man who is to be nominated for President in the approaching Democratic national convention.

JAMES CREELMAN

"I have known Judge Parker quite intimately for at least 25 years," said Judge O'Brien. "Our acquaintance was first formed in Mr. Tilden's school of Democratic politics. Both of us enjoyed the friendship of that remarkable man, who was so successful in drawing the young man of that day to his support.

"In his personal intercourse with his associates he is the most kindly and courteous of men. He is a strong, broad, clear-minded lawyer, and that implies a great deal. He is painstaking and industrious, with great capacity for work. He aims to acquire a strong grasp upon all the multifarious questions that a court of last resort in such a state as this has to deal with.

"With a trained mind and ample learning, he possesses, in addition, the supreme qualification for a great judge.

"He loves justice and hates iniquity."

"He has great independence of thought and character, firm in all his views and convictions, but not so obstinate as to be proof against reason and argument.

"From habit and education he is essentially conservative.

"His friends, who know him as well as I do, have no doubt that he is fully equipped for any public trust that may await him in the future.

"When it is necessary or proper for him to speak, I have no doubt he will have something clear and definite to say.

"While the discussion as to candidates proceeds among the people, he will doubtless prefer to leave the matter to the judgment of the Democracy in the several states and finally to the wisdom of the national convention. Speaking for himself I have little doubt about the ultimate results."

JUDGE GRAY COMPLIMENTS DEMOCRACY'S SELECTION.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Judge John Clinton Gray of the Court of Appeals announced today that he warmly indorsed the nomination of Judge Parker by the Democratic party.

"It is very fortunate," he said, "that Democracy now has the opportunity of uniting on a man whom his friends and acquaintances all believe to be well qualified for the presidency.

After declaring it as his opinion that Judge Parker would swing the state of New York into the Democratic column, Judge Gray said:

"I feel that he is the only man in New York state today who can carry it ofr the Democratic ticket. It is this fact, geographically considered, in my mind, that makes the nomination of Judge Parker a political necessity. I wish to add that as senior judge of the court of appeals for six years I have sat with Judge Parker, and it gives me pleasure to say that the country is to be congratulated in turning to such an admirable man for Democracy's standard bearer."

IS IT BEEF TRUST, SPEAKING THROUGH HUMANE SOCIETY, THAT WOULD ROB IRROGOTE OF HIS CHERISHED DOG MEAT?

Discovered That Barbarians Would Tie Canines to Post and Beat Them to Death With Club—It Is Remembered Modern Method of Killing Sheep Is the Same—Strike Them Down With Iron Hammer of Civilization.

The St. Louis Humane Society denies to the Igorrote the thing most toothsome to him at table.

Just when the wild men from the uneven end of Luzon are about to lay hands upon the unransomed pack in the city pound, the Humane Society rushes in, gathers the dogs to its breast, and forbids the feast.

John H. Finnell, special agent for the society, puts his finger upon a section in revised ordinance 1902 forbidding anything of this sort in the city of St. Louis.

The women of the society held an indignation meeting Tuesday afternoon and condemned the contemplated localization of the Igorotte custom of tying a dog to a stake, beating him to death with clubs, and then baking him in a long pan, with young onions laid on his ribs.

Poor little Fido, stand just back of me,
And I will protect thee from this cruelty.
Now, this is all right, but—

Of course, the people of the Humane Society are all honorable men and women.

But what meat do these citizens feed upon that they have become so humane?

Dr. Hunt, the governor of the Filipino colony, admits that the Igorrotes do not chloroform a dog, as our butchers do a sheep, nor do they tickle a dog in the ribs until he dies of joy, as our slaughter house angels of mercy do with a hog.

The Igorrotes are barbarians. Their barbaric minds can suggest nothing more humane than to tie the poor dog to a stake, hit him in the face four or five times with the gnarled bole of a banyan tree, and then skin him for baking.

Horrible!

But—

Of course, a dog and calf comparison is not altogether fair. The dog is a sweet creature, and the calf is a coarse little brute. The dog has a pitiful little moo-oo-, and the calf snaps and barks. Nobody would care to take a snarling little calf in arms, but a lovely, kind-eyed, sweet-breathed, soft-lipped little dog is delightful to have and to hold.

But with all his faults we love him still—the poor little calf.

And we shudder to think how the butchers of St. Louis put a rope around the dear little thing's neck, pass the rope through a ring on the floor of the slaughter house, and pull the poor, bleating little calf down on his knees.

Of course, this isn't anything like so horrible as tying a dog to a stake for slaughter; but it isn't nice, either.

Then it is so hard to think of the way they kill the poor little calf. The big butcher goes to the corner and picks up a big sledge hammer. The difference between the sledge hammer and the Igorrote was club is that one is a savage implement and the other is a product of the force and civilization. It would be a great mistake to suppose that they are in any wise analogous from a humanitarian point of view.

The butcher steps up to the poor little calf. He says, "So, so, bossy," just as tenderly, and the poor little calf looks up at him with big, trustful eyes glistening with diaphanous tears.

O poor, barbaric Igorrote,

Of course, it is cruel to kill dogs. If the Igorrotes think they are going to introduce any such barbarism into the midst of an esthetic community like St. Louis, they are ringing the wrong doorbell.

We do not permit the Igorrote to kill his dog because the dog is a dumb animal; because it has a heart, and, perhaps (your own guess goes here) a soul; because it feels and hears, and knows the sensations of pain; because it can suffer anguish, as we know by its howls; because it has kind eyes, a loving disposition (this is my dog and not yours that I'm describing), and because it does us no harm, and therefore should not be harmfully done by.

But—

And feeling?
And also a lamb?
And ditto a cute little pig?

Have we anything on the Igorrote except the question of revised ordinances number 1002?

But dogs!

NOTHING CAN STOP THE PARKER BOOM

—T. W. Myers, Tammany Leader

Sentiment Is Spreading Like Wildfire in the West, Says a New York Banker.

FOLK FOR VICE-PRESIDENT?

Former Comptroller of New York City Declares That Parker Will Sweep New York State.

Theodore W. Myers, a banker and Tammany leader, who has twice been comptroller of the city of New York, who is at the Planters, with his wife on his way home after spending a vacation of two months in California, says the Parker sentiment is spreading like wildfire throughout the West.

Mr. Myers enthusiastically declares that Judge Parker will be the Democratic nominee, and that he will carry New York state by the largest majority it has ever rolled up for a Democrat.

Incidentally, Mr. Myers says the Democratic party can find no better man than Joseph W. Folk for vice-president, although he is not surprised that Mr. Folk should prefer to continue his work in Missouri instead of accepting a vice-presidential nomination.

"Judge Parker's popularity is growing daily, and it will continue to grow," Mr. Myers declared to the Post-Dispatch Wednesday morning. "He is an ideal candidate, a man of the highest integrity, of unbounded popularity among those who know him, of scholarly attainments and of magnetic personality.

"Once Judge Parker goes out before the people the people will flock to him. He is a magnificent specimen of physical manhood, and his mental ability is in proportion to his physique.

"He is the opposite to Roosevelt, in that he is a conservative and deep-thinking man, while Roosevelt is inclined to be enthusiastic and erratic. He is as able a man as Roosevelt.

"All New York admires Judge Parker, and the state's delegates will be for him, whether instructed that way or not. Instructions are not necessary in this case.

"He will carry New York by a greater majority than Grover Cleveland did, and Cleveland carried it by more than 100,000.

"All over the country I find Parker sentiment is growing. Of course, Hearst is strong in California, but I do not think there is much enthusiasm among his followers.

"Were I to pick the running-mate for Judge Parker, I would take him from Missouri. I would take Joseph W. Folk. Throughout the country the Democratic party is proud of the great record made by Mr. Folk as a prosecutor. He is a big man—probably the biggest man the Democrats could name for the place.

"But I am not surprised that he should prefer to continue his candidacy for governor of Missouri, instead of running for vice-president.

"The vice-presidency is honorary to a certain extent, while, as governor, he could continue the important work he undertook as circuit attorney.

"His is so far about the only name I have heard mentioned in connection with the vice-presidency."

MAN OF MYSTERY'S TRIAL FOR MURDER

John Fechtel, who shot and killed Herman Schroeder at East Alton a few months ago, has been indicted for first degree murder by the Circuit Court grandjury.

Fechtel is a "man of mystery" to an extent, in that nothing can be gleaned of his early history. He was around the tile works at East Alton, where the killing occurred, only a month before the tragedy.

The murder was the outcome of a few words between the two and which Schroeder regarded as a joke, while Fechtel, who was quick-tempered, took so seriously that he left the dinner table in the tile works hotel, and, going to his boarding house secured his revolver.

Fechtel ran into the woods after throwing the gun in Wood river, but was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Laughlin, and when questioned as to the deed he unconcernedly remarked: "O, that's nothing."

Big Sale of Pianos At Kieselhorst's

PROFITS SACRIFICED COST UNCONSIDERED

ATTEND THE SALE, 914 OLIVE STREET

The sale only lasts ten days, or until April 14th, but judging from the way the pianos were taken during the past few days, these great bargains will all go before that time.

Never have buyers of any article been more enthusiastic, and it isn't to be wondered at, for never before in all the years of our business history have we offered the public anything like the bargains in high-class pianos as we are now offering at this sale. These special lines of pianos that we are closing out at cost and less comprise such famous makes as Decker & Son, Hallet & Davis, Steinway, Crown, Cable; also a limited number of the famous Kimball pianos.

Every instrument of real, substantial worth, and sold bearing our five-year guarantee—so that, no matter which piano you select, you know that if it doesn't prove satisfactory we stand behind it with our written guarantee.

Do not delay if you want to reap the money-saving made possible at this sale. Call and pick out your bargain, and don't buy unless you are fully convinced that it is the best piano offer you have ever seen.

If you don't want to pay cash, a $10 bill sends the piano to your home, and you pay the balance in small amounts at regular intervals.

To describe each instrument would require columns of space. We simply say that $225 uprights are being sacrificed at an even $100.

$325 uprights at	187
$350 uprights at	217
$400 uprights at	267
$500 uprights at	298
$600 uprights at	379

A PAPER SOLD EVERY DAY FOR EVERY HOME IN THE CITY.

A New York writer speaks of "these United States." If "the United States is," how is this?

The $21,000,000 of new capital already invested in Missouri in the new year will bring many more millions of profits.

THE MAN AND THE HOUR.

The amazing strength accumulated by the Parker presidential candidacy within a week is disclosed by a study of the poll of the Post-Dispatch and World and of the map of the United States. In the Parker column may fairly be counted all the states that elected Mr. Cleveland in 1892 except California. These states include the eastern Democratic states, the solid South and the central western states of Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin. Although several of these states have favorite sons, to whom their votes may be given as a compliment, yet they may be counted upon, according to excellent authority, to turn to Parker when the final test of strength comes. The attitude of these states is determined by the attitude of the New York Democrats who have declared for Parker. The votes of these states will decide the election.

In addition to the former Cleveland states the leaders of the Republican states of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Colorado, Wyoming, Oregon, Washington, Minnesota, New Hampshire and Massachusetts have declared for Parker as their real choice.

The Parker measure is a remarkable example of the combination of the right man, the critical time and the opportune conditions. New York's action, as the Sunday Post-Dispatch said, cleared the atmosphere and pointed the way to Democratic unity and opportunity. It was the psychological moment. The man in whom the opportunity was found grows with better acquaintance. His character and record show him to be a man of strong, self-contained character excellently endowed with fine personal qualities and with a long record of conspicuous ability and integrity on the bench. Democratic in principles and tastes, conservative in judgment, firm but judicial in temper, Judge Parker offers a happy solution of the Democratic problem and a fair hope of relief from the dangers of Rooseveltism.

The Democrats of the West find in Judge Parker a candidate who offers them an opportunity to turn from Bryanism to sound principles and a safe strong candidate with which they may confidently appeal to the people without violating the strictest code of party ethics.

A preacher in Howell County wants to be elected to the legislature because "a preacher ought to go into every bad place." He ought to win easily on that platform.

FIDO AND THE LAMBKIN.

The Igorrotes must not eat Fido, Towser, Tray, Blanch and Sweetheart. The Humane Society has said it. Our fellow citizens from the Philippines like dog meat but to gratify the appetite involves cruelty to the dog and the Humane Society abhors cruelty to animals.

This is kind and good. Fido and his canine friends are fortunate in their human friends. But why is the Humane Society partial? If dogs mustn't be killed for food because it is cruel, what about the dear little lambkin, the pig, the tender calf, the juicy bossy? The sheep bleat in vain. The Humane Society does not hear, for the air is filled with the yelps of sausage in posse noisily asserting the will to live as dogs in esse, the shape decreed by nature herself. Does the butcher heed bossy's moo? Does a thrill run up and down the spine of the Humane Society whenever that wonderful transition from pig to pork in 40 seconds takes place?

This is not a criticism, much less a censure of the Humane Society. It is only a train of reflections set going by one of those curious contradictions which pass unnoticed every day in the year but one and sometimes on that one.

Dogs are overabundant and cheap, but lamb chops are scarce and dear. The suggestion is plain—but it all depends upon the point of view, and are not the Igorrotes entitled to theirs?

Every patriot wants to see liberty bell. Bring it to St. Louis. Let the protesters ring off.

A GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY.

The Washington correspondent of the Sunday Post-Dispatch names a dozen trusts which seem to come within the view of the recent antitrust decision in the Northern Securities case.

Among these are the Tobacco Trust, the Steel Trust, the Oil, Wool, Meat and Paper trusts.

Does Mr. Roosevelt propose to sit idly and let these pirates continue their cruise when the Supreme Court has placed a weapon in his hands with which he can strike them between wind and water?

It is a golden opportunity. The demand for the suppression of monopoly is well nigh unanimous. Mr. Roosevelt can augment his popularity by proceeding along the lines laid down for him by the Supreme Court. Will he take this path or will he by supine indifference and lazy inactivity justify the belief that the prosecution of the Northern Securities was only a bit of buncombe?

Kentucky has also made chicken stealing a felony.

MANAGEMENT OF CITY INSTITUTIONS.

The recommendations of the grandjury touching the city institutions are suggestions of common sense and practical experience.

The plan suggested hinges on the "absolute separation of the scientific from the business features of the institutions." Nothing could be more self-evident than the wisdom of such a separation. Every physician and every business man will approve an arrangement so in harmony with every scientific and business consideration.

The scientific work at the City Hospital, the insane asylum and the female hospital should of course be under the control of a physician appointed for his scientific attainments without reference to his political opinions or possibility of political service. Nor is it necessary for him to be familiar with the rules and customs of business.

On the other hand the business management should be in the hands of a qualified business man experienced and competent. Honest, efficient, disinterested—he needs no other qualifications.

The need of such a reform was emphasized by the late Dr. Runge's experience at the insane asylum. It was impossible for him as it is for any man to do justice to both sections of asylum management. Each is a special work requiring

RHYMERS AND JOKERS.

An Advance Note.

It will be 5 cents for car fare,
But 'twill be 10 cents for beer,
And 'twill be a quarter of hard-earned cash
It 'll be a 50-cent piece
And a porterhouse steak will a banker break,
Unless he has lined his jeans.

And a quarter to get brushed off;
If you loop the loop with a bowl of soup,
A dollar you 'll have to cough.
Fried chicken—a half—2.10.
Oh, yes, it looks steep, and 'twill make you weep

To ride in a cab, $10;
To sleep in a bed, three more;
Just to peep at a show—oh, $2, or so,
We 'll seek it all over town,
And if we can't easily hold you up,
Why, we 'll properly shake you down!

Talking About Talk.

In laying a member liable to a fine of $10 for talking under certain circumstances, the Barbers' union of Alton is striking a blow at the very foundation of the tonsorial business. As a general proposition, speech is to a barber what dress is to a woman. True, there are some barbers who do not care to talk, just as there are some women who are not much on dress; but what kind of a woman is it that does not care to dress, and what sort of a barber is it that is not more fluent of speech than a country lawyer on the Fourth of July or a young state's attorney in the midst of his closing speech in his first murder trial?

The man who lies down in a barber's chair, "to sleep, perchance to dream," is soon awakened by the buzz of conversation in his left ear. Gradually it dawns upon him that certain information of a judicial nature is being imparted to him anent the latest published utterance of Mr. Robert Fitzsimmons, or that it is being pointed out to him in no uncertain language exactly wherein Miss Julia Marlowe's acting is at fault in the second scene of the fourth act of "When Knighthood Was in Flower." At other times the batting record of Mike O'Neil is being held up to scorn, and the weary listener is shown conclusively that the Browns are in no position to pose as pennant-winners this year—and World's Fair year, at that—all of which, the orator concludes, is a woeful shame.

What are you going to do about it? If most barbers could not talk they would go bughouse, and it is generally conceded that it is better the public should suffer than that the number of padded cells should be increased. Wise men simply accept the talk as a part of the penalty they must pay for being too lazy to shave themselves.

Queer Signs.

Full many signs there are of spring
That puzzle and deceive;
E. g., the trees most truly please

What a triumph it would be for Darwin, were he living, that an ape so like a man that it could not be distinguished from one of our recently annexed peoples was smuggled to the World's Fair without the government officials discovering any difference.

Everybody desiring to join the American Society of April Fools send their names, ages and addresses at once to Leonard H. Robbins, Newark, N. J., or to the editor of "Just a Minute," Post-Dispatch, St. Louis. You'll be foolish if you don't.

A single Chicago firm has just bought 5000 barrels of Kentucky Waterfill whisky. This doesn't sound like a Kentucky brand, but the name may fit better after Chicago has handled the consignment.

Kansans will be considerably depressed if they come to the Exposition and see longer whiskers in Missouri than have been grown in Kansas.

As the Igorrotes are not vegetarians they cannot live on bark; and so they take the dog.

Press Opinions on His Prospects—His Clean Record, High Character and Popularity, Which Give His Canvass Strength

Parker Is Indorsed.

St. Louis Correspondence of Chicago Record-Herald.

An important political move in connection with the meeting of a committee composed largely of Bryan followers is to be found in an editorial in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch of today. In a two-column editorial the Post-Dispatch brings the Parker boom into Missouri, finding in the New York jurist the logical candidate, and setting forth his availability with much attention to details.

A Clean Record.

From the Chattanooga Times.

Within the past 48 hours there has been a strong concentration of public sentiment in New York favorable to Judge Parker, the significance of which will be more thoroughly appreciated a little later on. Judge Parker's record is clean and gives offense to none of the factions into which the party has been unfortunately divided, and his selection will afford the leaders an opportunity to enter at once upon an aggressive and offensive campaign.

Conclusive Indications.

From the Atlanta Journal.

The logic of the situation demands Democratic unity upon the candidacy of Judge Parker. New York is for him, and the decision of New York is final. He is the man upon whom all factions of the party can unite, the safe and sure leader who must be opposed to the unsafe and erratic Mr. Roosevelt.

If Mr. Bryan Should Bolt—

From the Detroit Free Press.

Mr. Bryan has already announced his opposition to the candidacy of Judge Alton B. Parker for the Democratic nomination for President. Many of the Nebraska leader's friends are saying he will not content himself with merely opposing the nomination of the chief justice of the New York court of appeals; but that if the St. Louis convention makes Judge Parker the party's candidate for President, Mr. Bryan will refuse to support the ticket.

No American citizen is obliged to vote for any candidate for President who is personally or politically offensive to him, and Mr. Bryan has a right to bolt if Judge Parker is nominated. But why should the fear of Mr. Bryan's bolting influence the Democrats of the country? What have they to lose by Mr. Bryan's refusing to support the nominee of the convention? It has been evident for many months, that only a candidate with Populistic instincts and socialistic tendencies would be acceptable to Mr. Bryan. Such a candidate would be overwhelmingly defeated in the elections. Mr. Roosevelt would undoubtedly poll two-thirds of the popular vote if the Kansas City platform were reaffirmed and a candidate in sympathy with it nominated for President. If Mr. Bryan were to have his own way, the Democrats would stand not one chance in 15,000,000 of carrying the election, and in addition to an unprecedented defeat the party itself would be wrecked.

The Democratic Situation.

From the Louisville Times.

The situation, which three weeks ago seemed hopelessly tangled, is now plain to the most casual observer. The Hearst boom, which so seriously menaced the party, has already spent itself and its creator stands small chance of entering the convention with more than 200 votes instructed for him. These, together with the scattering votes for favorite sons, may serve to delay, but will in no wise change the result. The nomination of Judge Parker by a majority which will insure the willing support by a reunited party can be looked forward to as a certainty. He will give to the ticket strength where strength is most needed. With New York again in the Democratic ranks, New Jersey, Connecticut, Maryland and West Virginia are more than likely to follow suit. Sound money and free silver Democrats can once more stand on common ground. Issues for a campaign against one-man rule, corruption in the public service and surrender to corporate interests are not lacking.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

WASHINGTON, April 6.—"Speaking of the present status of the Hearst boom and its probable condition at the finish reminds me of the predicament of an old friend of mine who awoke one night after a long period of conviviality," said Colonel Bill Sterrett of Texas.

"Much to his astonishment, he found there was an elephant in the room. It was a large elephant. In fact, it filled the entire room and slopped over some on the bed. My friend viewed the elephant with some alarm. He was interested to know how it got in there, but, inasmuch as it was in, that problem became secondary to the problem of how he could get it out, as it was too big to go through door or window.

"While he was nervously debating this proposition the elephant settled the whole affair by slowly backing out through a knothole."

Patent Commissioner Allen is impressed with the dignity of his position. A few day ago a young man came into his office, took off his hat and said:

"Mr. Allen, may I speak with you a moment?"

Allen eyed the visitor coldly.

"Sit down," he said, "and I will attend to you in a few minutes."

Then he went on and talked with a Representative or two and some other visitors. Finally he turned to the young man and said:

"Come into my private office."

Once there, Mr. Allen looked severely at the young man and said:

"I observed when you came in that you called me 'Mr. Allen.' Do you know, sir, that I am the commissioner of patents for the United States?

"If the speaker will count the members who are at the racetrack he will have no difficulty in establishing a quorum," said Representative Sulzer.

Drawing Lessons for Young Cartoonists.

No. 3—How to Draw a Comic Head.

LESSON NO. 4 will show the beginner how to draw a cat.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

WORKING GIRLS AND THE WORLD'S FAIR.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

While not wishing to pose as a pessimist by any means I wish to do something towards agitating the necessity for taking some steps towards warning our working girls against the dangers which menace them through the presence of the many thousand strangers who will flock here during the Fair.

The writer cannot too strongly urge every home-loving citizen to lend assistance to different bands of Christian workers who are meeting the girls at the Union station and aiding them to avoid lurking danger.

"PRINCE HONORE."

A DAY'S REST FOR THE ICEMAN.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I want, through your paper, to appeal to the people of this great city to be kind and considerate enough to take enough ice on Saturday to last over Sunday, and not have those men that work so hard and get up so early to work seven days. They should have one day's rest. If the public heeds this appeal it will be greatly appreciated by them and their families. May their consience guide them aright.

A PATRON.

DOGMEAT VS. BEEF.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I am much interested in the determination of the kindly members of the Humane Society to prevent our Filipino brethren from dining on the succulent flesh of our four-footed canine friends.

I am a little curious to know whether our humane friends eat beef and mutton.

ALLEY NEEDS PAVING.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I read that they were paving all the streets and alleys in the city. I cannot understand why they do not fix the alley between Lenard and Compton avenues on the south side of the street, as it is in a very bad condition.

VISITOR.

CONDITION OF DE BALIVIERE AVENUE.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Why is De Baliviere avenue not paved and sidewalk laid leading to the Fair grounds? This is the leading thoroughfare for pedestrians north of the Fair grounds. The only walk is between the car tracks.

A WEARY WALKER.

There are no elections, and the people of the city and district never vote. If, while within the age of 18 years, a Missouri convict committed the offense for which he is imprisoned and the offense was his first, he can vote at the expiration of his term; otherwise, he must be pardoned by the governor in order to be restored to his former rights as a voter.

Z. Z.—In 1857 the Seapoy regiments in the British army of India mutinied. Mohammedans among them declared that the new cartridges had been smeared with the fat of pigs and cows. It was an attempt to exterminate the white population of India. Every English man, woman and child in Meerut was massacred. The massacre at Cawnpore was one of the most horrible in history. The uprising was soon quelled. Czar Nicholas II's wife is Princess Alice of Hesse-Darmstadt, granddaughter of the mother of King Edward, who was the grandmother of Kaiser Wilhelm. "Ingomar the Barbarian" is a play, translated from the German by Maria Ann Lovell, produced at Drury Lane in 1851.

VIKING.—The Post-Dispatch can reproduce a picture from any photograph, negative, drawing or painting. The printing of a newspaper picture (either photograph or pen drawing) is made possible by the artists. After the artists have completed their work of retouching or drawing the picture it is given to the mechanical department, where the picture undergoes the process of photo-engraving. The retouched photograph or drawing is photographed just as any object or scenery. This photograph of the picture is printed reversed on a flat piece of zinc, which is sensitized like photographic print papers. The print on the zinc is covered with ink, then washed with water and the picture appears (reversed) on the zinc plate. The plate is then placed in a flat vessel with nitric acid, which eats away or etches those places on the zinc which are not covered with ink. When the plate has been etched deep enough so that the projections of the plate will catch or hold ink when rolled over it the etched zinc plate is given to the stereotypers, who make a cylindrical lead casting of it, so that it can be printed on a newspaper press. Pen and ink drawings are photographed direct, like any object, but a photograph is photographed through a screen, which is a glass plate with black lines drawn on it numbering 60, 70, 75, 100, 125, 150, 175 or 200 lines to the square inch, thus the negative of the photographed photos is a mass of small dots hardly visible to the naked eye.—(Your other answers later.)

ON A GREASED TRACK.

From the Nashville American.

Mr. Bryan is traveling down grade, and the track is greased. At the present rate it will not take him long to reach the bottom. The time is coming when men who have been among his most enthusiastic eulogists will think of him with disgust, and speak of him with contempt.

HE EXPLAINED.

From Puck.

He: My sweet one, do you love me?
She: Ah, dearest, how can you ask that?
He: Why, it's a very simple physiological process. The impulse doubtless originates in the cerebellum, is accelerated in the cerebrum, and, upon being transmitted to the proper nerves, is converted by the vocal organs into the words, "Do you love me?"

BOSTON PRODUCTS.

From the Chicago Inter Ocean.

Boston is proud of the fact that it has produced a boy who at the age of 9 is fully equipped to enter a university. It sometimes happens that way. At other times, as in the case of James Fenner, Boston was not so proud over the possession of a boy who at over a more tender age was fully equipped to enter a penitentiary.

Radium On the Stage

From the New York Times.

IT was sure to come. It has come. Radium on the stage. The only wonder is that some one of the hustling, up-to-date, ahead of time American managers did not think of it first. But they will probably get to it before long. For from Paris comes the story of Loie Fuller's latest sensation, "radium dances," which she has shown to M. and Mme. Curie. The famous physicists are said to have remarked that the American serpentine lady had made them look upon their own discovery in a new light. The name "radium dances" is not, as might be imagined, a fanciful one. No actual salt of radium is manipulated by the lady in the production of her new effects. But she uses substances very nearly akin to radium. There are certain fluorescent salts, extracted from the residue of pitchblende, whence the Curies obtained the mysterious matter discovered by them. It has, in fact, been supposed, as will be remembered, that such salts derive their fluorescence from the influence of radium. So much for the justification of the name given to the new dance. The spectacle itself is weird and fantastic in the extreme.

The few guests asked by Loie Fuller to witness in her studio the performance, which has not yet been given in public, are marshaled at one end of the gallery, with all lights put out. Through a slit in the curtains opposite a green glow is seen. Suddenly an apparition comes into view. It is a vague form, only distinguished by the hundreds of tiny glow worms which it seems to carry on its flowing raiment. The tissue of twinkling stars floats about, circles, sweeps along the floor, or is wafted up until it is shaped into a sort of great luminous vase. The dancer's face is never seen, her form is vaguely divined when outlined by the glowing lights. The apparition vanishes, to be followed by another more weird still.

Above a perfectly invisible head, which you only suppose to be there, shines a bluish halo. Below, clothing an unseen figure, is a long robe, which is merely one great patch of the some ghostly light. The apparition slowly moves to a solemn rhythm, seems to invoke heaven, the halo being thrown backward when the head is as you conclude, uplifted, and, finally, the robe of light sinks on to the floor, when you infer that the figure kneels. The second ghost vanishing, a third appears, a monster glowing moth, with shining antennae a foot long, eyes which are globes of light, and wings six feet high, glittering with luminous scrolls in all colors. The moth flutters round and round the studio, then out of our sight, but reappears instantly, accompanied by a smaller, glowing white butterfly, which beats its wings over the monster luminous insect's head. Lamps being relighted, we are brought back to reality out of ghostland, and, having an opportunity of examining the dancer's dresses, find they are made of a peculiar kind of silk completely impregnated with certain fluorescent salts. In complete darkness only the portions of material thus rendered luminous are visible. Hence the extraordinary ghostly effects. In the treatment of stuffs by fluorescent salts lies the originality of the invention.

Jap "Prison Editor."

Among the institutions of civilization which Japan gained from Europe was the "prison editor." Until a few years ago he was absolutely indispensable to the native Japanese journals, which were constantly at war with the government. In the '60s journalism was a punishable offense; and in the '70s and '80s, though tolerated, it was severely restricted, and state officials could and did imprison editors at their discretion. Hence the vital necessity of an "editor" whose department it was solely to go to prison. But his arbitrary imprisonment was abolished in 1887, and 10 years alter full freedom of speech, lese majeste barred, was conceded.

John L. Emits Some Epigrams

JOHN L. SULLIVAN, convalescing in his sister's home in Boston, was in a reminiscent and philosophic mood the other day. These are some of the things he said:

"I never was stuck on scrapping. I was after the money.

"I made boxing respectable. I took it out of the mire. When I went into it, if a man went to a fight with any money or jewelry the gang got it. I made it so he could have plenty of police protection and keep his goods.

"Nowadays fighters don't fight. They blathergag and blatherskite in the newspapers for a year. When they get ready to fight the man who is licked wants more money than the fellow that wins. And often he gets it.

"Laflin was the only man that met me in Madison Square Garden that didn't want a piece of the money. He didn't get a cent.

"Boxing has gone to the bad. It hasn't been on the level. There's a lot of bum hamfatters in the business.

"What the peeople want is an open town; not too much open, but just enough to let a man take a drink or go to church if he wants.

"If Boston had a mayor like O'Brien was it'd be all right. You don't see no mayors now going around putting belts on fighters like he did.

"I made $1,500,000 legitimate, and I blew it—just gave it away and threw it away. Blew it—that's the word.

"I lent a lot. If the men I lent it to was to pay up, I'd have more than $100,000 now. But I guess the money did some good.

"Money's the best friend a man's got at that. If you can put your hand down in your pocket and feel something rattlin' it makes you cheerful.

"Ginmills is no good. It ain't the right way to get money. A good fellow can't make money runnin' a ginmill. It's a bum business.

"A man is a fool to get stuck on a woman so as to lose his senses. When a man's all gone on a woman so he can't break away he's no good.

"A man ought to get married young. When he's about 21 or 22 and has seen a piece of the world he ought to get married and settle down. By the time he's 50 he'll have half a dozen doin' somethin' for him.

"If a woman's careful and a man doesn't booze and want to smoke 25-cent cigars they can get along all right. And $600 a year will do it.

"I haven't lost my ambition. I'm goin' to settle down in Boston some day and go in politics.

"I'm for clean politics. I think a man ought to look out for his constituents, but I think a man can take money from a big corporation and still not do his constituents no harm. If they want anything it's right to make 'em give up. If they want laws let 'em pay for them. That's legitimate graft.

"I'd like to get into office so some decent laws could be passed.

"I've never seen no country that's so good as my own, and there ain't a city in it I like so well as Boston. But New York's where the money is."

PROFIT BY AMERICAN LESSON.

WOMAN is forever a chief and inseparable factor in the warfare of nations. The Red Cross knows no friend, nor foe, nor does it recognize the word enemy. In Japan the Red Cross Society is under the patronage of the Empress of Japan. During Japan's war with China something like ten thousand women volunteered to go out as nurses to the front, and this number has been increased for service in the present campaign. There is no more efficient hospital service in the world than the Japanese, for they have profited by the knowledge of American nurses.

Her rare appearance on the battlefield or in the hospitals—nursing, cheering and comforting the wounded or dying—is a very small part of what woman does to promote a country's fighting capacity. She does more than roll bandages, scrape lint and send out dainty boxes of provisions for husbands, brothers and sweethearts in the field.

The wives and mothers, and the sisters and sweethearts that will become wives and mothers—contribute something more in addition to this cheering comfort and inspiration.

Every male fighter, however brawny and heroic was born of woman; was once a feeble infant, drawing—along with his very breath of life from his mother's own physical resources—the hardihood, mental stamina and high courage that becomes a nation's final and impregnable defense in the last dread arbitrament of war.

What sort of men will the women of this present day contribute to the nation and the world? What sort of help and encouragement and inspiration can a woman be who is enfeebled and broken down by the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to her sex? Can such a woman maintain the position that belongs to her on the battlefield of everyday exertion and struggle? Can she hope to be a capable mother or efficient wife?

The dreadful sufferings which women endure solely because of the delicate, special organization which makes them wives and mothers, leads a thoughtful person to consider whether it is most woefully deplorable on their own sad account or for the sake of the other lives that are sooner or later dependent on their own.

It is certain that the great work which has been done toward restoring the physical capacity of women in the last thirty-eight years, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has had a phenomenal share in building up the courage and power of the present generation. But there are fifty thousand more women who ought to know what Dr. Pierce's extraordinary medical insight and experience and his "Favorite Prescription" have done for their hopeless, discouraged sisters throughout the world.

Every woman knows that the average doctor cannot understand her case. He is too busy; he has too many other cases of an entirely different nature; he lacks the special experience and thorough understanding which are necessary to a complete appreciation of her troubles. A life-time of experience and constant study has made Dr. Pierce the acknowledged expert authority in this particular field of practice. Write him at Buffalo, N. Y. Your letters will be held sacredly confidential and there is no charge for such consultation and advice.

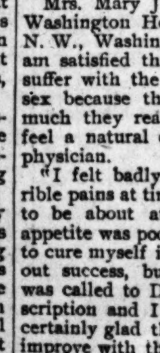

PROFESSIONAL ADVICE.

Mrs. Mary J. Beard (Trained Nurse, Washington Hospital), of 1706 9th St., N. W., Washington, D. C., writes: "I am satisfied that thousands of women suffer with the troubles peculiar to our sex because they do not realize how much they really need treatment and feel a natural delicacy in consulting a physician.

"I felt badly for four years, had terrible pains at times and was often unable to be about attending to my duties; appetite was poor and sleep fitful. Tried to cure myself in various ways but without success, but finally my attention was called to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and I decided to try it. Am certainly glad that I did for I began to improve with the first bottle and gradually became better until I was entirely cured of the old trouble. Am well and can enjoy life once more."

BEFORE OR AFTER MARRIAGE

Persons of either sex should know themselves. Ignorance of the laws of SELF AND SEX leads to misery and ill-health. Do not permit FALSE modesty to debar you from such knowledge. Know about the Process of Generation. Physical and Vital Properties of the Blood, the Organs of the Body.

A great deal of sickness and a great many doctors' bills might be saved to any family by keeping a copy of Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page free book, "The Common Sense Medical Adviser," at hand. It gives valuable recipes for curing the diseases that are curable without a doctor and comprehensive information about Anatomy and Physiology with over three hundred illustrations. "The Common Sense Medical Adviser" is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume.

PRESIDENT WATCHES CHILDREN'S CIRCUS

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The private grounds south of the White House were the scene of a circus yesterday afternoon.

The performers were Archie, Quentin and Ethel Roosevelt and Archie's pony, Algonquin. The spectators were the President, who watched the performance through a window of his private office, and Mrs. Roosevelt, who occupied a reserved seat.

The only other spectators were the workmen who were cleaning up the rubbish left by the Easter egg rollers, and a few clerks on the upper floors of the state, war and navy building.

The ring was pitched close to the private lawn tennis court, where it was screened from the street by a high hedge. The performance consisted chiefly of tumbling and of bareback riding on Algonquin. Archie rode standing up, with the pony circling the ring at full speed and threw in many of the tricks used by circus riders. He was the star performer.

LOCAL ISSUES IN COUNTY.

E. S. Hart Mayor of Webster, C. G. Ricker of Kirkwood.

Local issues and quiet elections marked the selection of municipal officers in towns adjacent to St. Louis Tuesday.

Edward S. Hart was elected mayor of Webster Groves by a plurality of 61 votes on the Citizens' ticket and J. Will Barron, on the People's ticket, was elected police judge by 20 votes. Isaiah Forbes and J. Miller were chosen school directors, and aldermen were elected as follows: First ward, John J. Murphy; Second, Charles Waterhouse; Third, Frank Waddock, and Fourth, A. Leland.

The Citizens and Progressive Alliances at Kirkwood made a clean sweep, electing C. G. Ricker mayor. R. Pagenstecher, collector; P. A. Secrest, marshal, and H. S. Jacobi, police judge. Aldermen elected were: First ward, T. B. Boyd and B. F. Crosby; Second, ward, Alexander Kessler; Third ward, William Daly, and Fourth ward, George L. Edwards.

At Ferguson J. M. Christian was elected collector; Christ Lix and Fred Werden, school directors, and aldermen as follows: First ward, Louis S. Rough and Le Grande Atwood; Second ward, R. J. Secor; Third ward, Eugene Miller; Fourth ward, Thomas Gray.

At Florissant, Leon De Lisle was reelected mayor over Dr. N. M. Jensen, and the vote for councilmen follows: First ward, Herman Gelgkamp, 215, E. Barber, 20; Second ward, Sidney R. Garrett; Third ward, Peter Bardeau; school director, Henry Nick, 109, George Woose 109.

Cured of Backache.

Member of the Businsss Men's League and one of the best known business men in St. Louis, Mo. Read what Mr. Wand has to say about Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure:

"I know what it is to be afflicted with backache and I sympathize with fellow sufferers. After swallowing various and frequent nauseating doses of this and that prescription I decided that if Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure could not rid me of those backaches it at least would not do me any harm and I procured a bottle.

"Now the first bottle didn't stop those wearing backaches, but it did afford me great relief. The second bottle, however, did effectually put a stop to those racking backaches. Occasionally they returned when strenuous business affairs exhausted the physical forces, but a dose or two of Dr. Fenner's Cure gave instant relief.

Respectfully,

A BOTTLE OF SWANSON'S "5-DROPS"

Will be Sent Postpaid, Absolutely Free to Any Reader of This Paper. Write Today.

A POSITIVE CURE FOR RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA and KIDNEY TROUBLE.

SWANSON'S "5-DROPS" will cure Rheumatism in any of its forms or stages of development. Applied externally it affords instant relief from pain. Taken internally it rids the blood, tissues and joints of the uric acid and other poisonous matter, which are the causes of the disease. It never fails to cure Rheumatism, Kidney Trouble, Sciatica, Lumbago and Neuralgia. It has effected more cures of the above-named ailments than all other remedies combined. It has never failed to cure even the most obstinate case. "5-DROPS" cures these diseases by going directly to the seat of the trouble and removing the cause.

A. E. MARTIN, Chapman, Miss., writes: "My wife was a great sufferer from Rheumatism and was entirely cured by the use of "5-DROPS," and my daughter, who for four years has been confined to bed most of the time with a complication of diseases, and was treated by some of the most skillful physicians, is now restored to health after using your "5-DROPS."

For Coughs, Colds and La Grippe use "5-DROPS." By taking it at bedtime and in the morning before breakfast it will relieve and cure the most severe cough. It will break up a cold quicker than any other medicine. It cures La Grippe by destroying the germs which cause that disease.

For the Cure of Catarrh and Asthma "5-DROPS" is the best remedy in the world. Unlike almost any other remedy it is used internally and also inhaled, thus giving a thorough systemic treatment which affords early relief and effectually cures.

FREE Coupon No. 227. Cut out this coupon and send it with your name and address to Swanson Rheumatic Cure Co., Chicago, and you will be sent a trial bottle of "5-DROPS" free, postpaid.

The dead are: Nathan Frey, 66 years old; Isador Frey, 12 years; Helen Frey, 9 years; Henry Frey, 3 years; Gussia Dohring, 10 years, a cousin of Mrs. Rebecca Frey.

The injured are: Mrs. Rebecca Frey, dying in the Mt. Vernon Hospital; Mrs. Asa Barry, head and face burned, injuries not dangerous; Mrs. Louis Lavigne, overcome by smoke.

A DISHONEST NEWSBOY.

He was sentenced by Judge Moore in criminal court Wednesday morning.

Two weeks ago Dickson, who is a young colored man, accepted 40 papers from William Welch, a Post-Dispatch circulation branch agent at Vandeventer avenue and Olive street. Dickson sold the papers but kept the money and ran away.

He was arrested, and Wednesday morning he sent word to Judge Moore that he was ready to plead guilty.

New County Resort Planned.

Articles of incorporation of the Lucas Lake Park Association, having a capital stock of $20,000 and having for its object the opening of a new summer resort between St. Louis and St. Charles on the tracks of the St. Louis, St. Charles & Western Railroad Co., were filed in the recorder's office at Clayton Tuesday. The incorporators are J. B. C. Lucas, Max Koehler, Julius Kessler, J. Ruenpohl, F. B. Berger, Charles A. Autenrieth, Peter Helle, Joseph A. Duffy, F. A. Heidorn, David Casaliggi and J. D. Houseman.

Will Supervise Fair's Power.

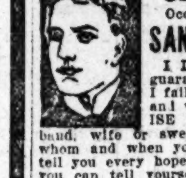

The appointment of Charles F. Foster of Chicago as chief engineer at the World's Fair power plant was made Tuesday. Mr. Foster will commence his duties at once. The work of operating the plant, which will employ about 300 men, will be in Mr. Foster's charge. The chief engineer may be appointed later by vote of the firms whose machinery is represented in the make-up of the plant.

Pavements Must Be Respected.

Save for emergency work, such as the repair of gas and water leaks, no permit for excavating in the central downtown district, bounded by Chouteau and Franklin avenues on the south and north and by the river and the city limits on the east and west, will be issued by Street Commissioner Varrelman after April 15 until the close of the Fair. All emergency work must be done in daylight, the streets being restored to their normal condition by nightfall.

IMPROVED PROPERTY FOR SALE

14 Words, 20c

Why pay rent when you can own your home? This question has probably been in your mind before. We are here to show you how you can own your home for less than rent. We have a plan whereby we can place you in possession of a home of your choice and give 10, 15, 20 or 30 years in which to pay for it.

St. Louis, Mo., March 1, 1904.

To the Agents and Contract Holders of the Equitable Home Association:

I take please in submitting to you the following report of the financial condition of the said Equitable Home Association at this date:

Office furniture and fixtures		1,050
Accruing property contract liability	$570,453
Payment on contracts and interest	18,947
Total assets above all contract liability	142,750

D. WHEELER SMITH, Secretary and Treasurer.

State of Missouri, City of St. Louis.

Before me, a notary public in and for the city of St. Louis and state of Missouri, personally appeared the above-named D. Wheeler Smith, to me known to be the person who signed the above, and personally acknowledged his signature thereto and upon his oath says the matter and things therein stated are true.

Dated this nineteenth day of March, 1904.

L. D. IMMELL, Notary Public.

My commission expires Aug. 15, 1904.

To Whom It May Concern:

This certifies that I am the holder of a property contract in the Equitable Home Association for $4500, on 20-year term. That in March, 1904, the said association purchased for me, under my contract, a home at East St. Louis, Ill., and gave me possession of it. I am paying each month on my contract $14.63, which is a credit on my home, and I pay $15.03 each month as interest on its purchase price, or it may be considered as rent.

I am well satisfied with my contract and it is giving me a home much cheaper and to a far greater advantage to me than I could get in any other way.

I believe the plan of the association a good one for a man to save his money and secure a home, and that the men in charge of it are reliable and understand their business. Very respectfully,

NEW YORK SUBWAY WOODWORK ON FIRE

TUNNEL CHOKED WITH SMOKE

Holes Were Cut Through the Surface Roadway and Streams Turned on the Flames.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The woodwork in the subway now under construction caught fire at Broadway and Fulton street today.

A large number of laborers are employed in the subway, and the fire cut off their usual means of egress, so that it was necessary to tear up the street a block further down Broadway to let them escape, a place where the excavation had been boarded over being chosen. Between Fulton street and the Battery the work on the subway is all being done underground, traffic continuing as usual on the street above. As a result, there were only a few places where the smoke could escape, and the tunnel soon became choked with dense smoke, which poured out in dense volumes from the few openings to the street above. The firemen were not able to enter the subway on account of th dense volumes of smoke, but they made several openings for streams of water, one from the basement of the Mail and Express building, two through the planking in front of that building, and one through the planking in front of the Western Union building. The strong timber construction of the subway surface, constructed here particularly of massive timbers and beams and heavy planking to accommodate the heavy traffic of lower Broadway, made it very difficult for the firemen, assisted by subway timbermen, to get an opening of any size. However, the water that was poured down on the fire from the street above smothered the flames after half an hour's hard work. The fire seriously interfered with telephone and telegraph service in the lower part of the city.

DAY NURSERY FINDS PLACE IN TEMPLE OF FRATERNITY.

Acting with the consent of the directors of the World's Fair Temple of Fraternity, Mrs. George J. Frankel, secretary of the Temple, Wednesday selected several of the brightest and cheerist rooms in that handsome building for use as a day nursery.

Steps will be taken at once toward fitting those rooms as a creche, to take the place of the one planned by the board of lady managers and then dropped because of its cost, $15,000.

Mrs. Frankel has written to Miss Lavina Egan, the secretary of the board of lady managers, requesting a donation from the board. She suggests $5000 as the amount they might give.

Crossed Wires Do $11,000 Damage.

While electricians were working, crossed wires in the residence of W. E. Herman, at No. 5377 Washington boulevard, started a blaze which gained headway so rapidly that the members of the family on the first floor were compelled to flee for their lives, and which practically destroyed the building and its contents, causing a loss estimated at $11,000. The entire upper floor was in flames before the fire was discovered and the family rushed from the building without saving anything. Mrs. J. M. Moore and her son, Clarence, living in the same house, were also compelled to leave hurriedly.

Advertising Men's Day and the International Association will be the topic for discussion at the meeting for April of the St. Louis Advertising Men's League, to be held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the Chippendale room of the St. Nicholas Hotel. The original date announced for Ad Men's Day at the World's Fair was Aug. 8, but a proposition to change the date until some time in October will be discussed at the meeting Thursday night, and some definite action will be taken then.

MOTHER-IN-LAW NO. 7 BEAT HIM

This Is Complaint of Man Who Says He Has Lost Track of Four Wives.

DOESN'T KNOW HER REASON

Alfred Viseau, 38 years old, who says he has been married seven times, and does not know what became of four of his wives, swore out a warrant for the arrest of his seventh mother-inlaw, Mrs. Frank Cichoutte, in East St. Louis Wednesday morning, on a charge of assault and battery.

At the East St. Louis police station Viseau, with his haed battered and bleeding and one ear badly cut, said that he had left a hospital Tuesday after a three weeks' illness with rheumatism, and had gone to the home of his mother-in-law, where his wife and five children stayed during his absence, to see them and to get some clothes.

His mother-in-law met him on the doorstep, he said, and at once started beating him. He says he knows no reason for such an attack.

Viseau told the Post-Dispatch that one of his wives, who was divorced from him, afterwards married a man living in Carondelet, was convicted of killing him and died in the penitentiary. Another wife, he says, died in an insane asylum. He professes not to know what became of the other four.

BELLIGERENTS KISS IN COURT

The belligerents in a family quarrel literally kissed and made up in the Dayton street police court Wednesday morning.

Two warring sisters and a brother agreed to let bygones be bygones and embraced and kissed each other before the court, while the brother publicly apologized to one of his sisters.

The persons concerned in this little production of tranquility out of chaos were Patrick Davin, 19 years old, of 1437 O'Fallon street; his sisters, Mrs. Edward Murphy of 1462 Warren street and Mrs. H. Stiffen of 1460 Warren street, and Mrs. Murphy's husband. The trouble arose at a party given by Mr. and Mrs. Murphy at their home last Sunday night.

Disposed to fine Davin heavily the court then let him off with a fine of $5. Murphy was discarged.

COFFEE TRAIL TO BOYS' LAIR.

Youths of 14 and 15 Charged With Looting Wagon.

A trail of coffee led to the discovery and arrest of Frank McDonald, aged 14, of 917 North Seventeenth street, and Frank Silvey, aged 15 years, of 2029 Franklin avenue, Tuesday night on a charge of stealing coffee by the pound from the wagon of the Cozen Tea and Coffee Co. as it stood at 1912 Franklin avenue.

The trail led to a hallway at 1923 Franklin avenue, where the boys were caught with the goods. They were locked up and warrants will be issued against them.

ATTORNEY-DEFENDANT FREED.

H. J. Patee Convinces Jury He Did Not Abuse His Family.

Henry J. Patee, an engineer residing at 2613 Elliot avenue, was the figure in a domestic drama in the Dayton Street Police Court Wednesday morning. Patee was arrested Saturday night upon complaint of his wife, Rose, who alleged that he had come home intoxicated and had cursed and abused her and her daughter, Barbara.

Patee appeared as his own attorney. The witnesses were his wife and her daughters, Barbara and Nellie, the last-named a child of 13 years.

Patee conducted a cross examination of his wife and daughters, in which he convinced the jury that he had neither struck or abused either. The jury discharged him.

Cashed Two Bogus Checks.

W. M. Resser, manager of the Ray company at 923 Olive street, reported to the police this afternoon that he had cashed two checks, one for $23 Friday, and one for $11 Saturday, both signed and indorsed by Charles E. Miller, giving Miller $18 in cash for the first, the balance being part paymen on a $45 phonograph outfit. The second check, he said, was paid in full to accommodate Miller, who called Saturday morning. The checks were on the State National Bank and were returned to Mr. Reeser this morning with the notation, "no such chap." A description of Miller was furnished to the police.

BOY OF 16 KILLED OVER YOUNG GIRL

CHICAGO, April 6.—A quarrel over a girl, their companion at school, culminated in the killing of one 16-year-old boy by another.

The victim was Paul Jelick, and the slayer was Henry Schaze. He was arrested and has confessed to the killing, but declares he shot in self-defense.

The boys became enemies when Schaze escorted a girl pupil from school a year ago. The youths fought first, when Jelick declared the other had tried to "cut him out," as other pupils said, and, in a battle behind the school building, Schaze was victor over Jelick.

After that time, it is said, the boys would quarrel every time they met until Schaze organized his companions into a bodyguard and the fued spread throughout the school.

Both boys often would be accompanied by bands of supporters, and challenges were frequent. The clash finally came when, after quarreling for several minutes, Jelick struck the other boy in the face and threw him to the ground. Schaze then drew a revolver and shot Jelick, who died almost instantly.

OFFICER DEAD 3 HOURS WHEN FOUND

Coroner Funkhouser has been notified of the death of Special Officer John Clark, who died suddenly sometime after 1 o'clock Wednesday morning at his home, 2545 Bacon street. Dr. B. Chamblin of 2427 North Grand avenue, called by Miss Kate Clark, a sister of the policeman, found him dead at 6 o'clock. Dr. Chamblin says he had been dead probably three hours.

Clark was on duty at the baseball park Tuesday afternoon. He returned home about 11 o'clock and complained of feeling ill. His sister suggested that a physician be called, but he refused to have one, saying he would soon be better, and went to bed. At midnight he began to breathe heavily, but still refused to call a doctor, and ordered his sister to bed. Shortly before 6 o'clock Miss Clark went to his room and found him apparently in a faint. She called Dr. Chamblin at once, and he pronounced her brother dead.

SKETCHED AT "THE ROGERS BROTHERS IN LONDON."

They were in better hands.

They exchanged hughes and Kemper for William Shakspeare, and the performance was as many times better than "Alexander the Great" as Shakspeare is greater than Hughes and Kemper.

The attendance was not large, but the 700 or 800 people in the house followed the play with that rapt attention compelled by the genius of Shakspeare.

Mr. Warde was Marc Antony and Mr. James was Brutus. It is quite safe to say that there is more magnetism in Warde's Marc Antony than in anything else he does. He looks the part, and he acts it with a very fine touch. His reading of the famous oration earned him an applause which continued until he came to the footlights and thanked the audience for himself and Mr. James, saying that such indorsements go far toward justifying them in their determination to cling to the classic drama.

Mr. James as Brutus was much more satisfactory than he was as Alexander the Great. He looked the noblest Roman of them all to much better satisfaction, and he left us duly impressed with the certainty that Brutus was a heavyweight in whatever aspect he might have been viewed. His work in the tent scene with Cassius aroused the audience to an applause very similar to that given Mr. Warde.

Thomas Coffin Cooke played Julius Cesar. With all due respect for the gentleman's ability he was no Cesar. Had Cesar been half so sad-eyed and undynamic the Helvetians would have licked him inside of the first four or five pages of our Latin grammar.

Norman Hackett was Cassius. Mr. Hackett is not trained down to fit the expression "lean and hungry," but he is rather an inspirited Cassius, and he does some things very well. His inclination to overdo his rage and to fix his eye on a certain star after deliverance of a set speech detracted somewhat from the pleasure of seeing him in the part.

Wednesday afternoon the company plays "Macbeth," and Wednesday night it will return to "Alexander the Great," which it also plays Friday night and at the Saturday matinee. "Othello" will be repeated Thursday night and "Macbeth" Saturday night.

The Rogers Brothers continue to do a big business at the Olympic. The Nelson monument on Trafalgar Square is still standing for some of the fierce entertainment within its shadow, but nobody can explain it.

The Bostonians, famous for discovering unknown talent, bring forward this season two young women who promise to be prominent prima donni on the stage in a very short time. Nothing was known of Alice Neilson, Camille D'Arville, Hilda Clarke, Zelie De Luson, Jessie Bartlett Davis, Eugene Cowles and many others, all of whom were discovered and brought out by The Bostonians. It is expected that ere long much will be heard of Gertrude Zimmer, the new prima donna soubrette, and Agnes Cain Brown, the company's latest dramatic soprano. It is the opinion of Max Freeman, the celebrated stage manager, that Miss Zimmer is the greatest prima donna soubrette in America today. Miss Brown has been referred to as the comic opera Nordica. In the company also are Henry Clay Barnabee, William H. MacDonald, George B. Frothingham, Howard Chambers, Douglass Ruthven, George Fiske, Campbell Donald and Adele Rafter, Kate Condon. They will open Sunday night at the Century in Victor Herbert's "The Serenade," followed by "Robin Hood" on Monday night.

Beginning next Monday evening at the Olympic Theater, and continuing for one week, with a matinee on Saturday only, Charles Frohman will present Miss Maude Adams in her new play, "The Pretty Sister of Jose," a dramatization of Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett's novel of that name. Miss Adams has not appeared in St. Louis since 1902, the reason for this being that last year she spent mostly in Europe and did not make her annual American tour. She enjoys the distinction of being the most popular actress now before the American public, and the theatergoers of St. Louis have in the past extended to her a most cordial welcome on the occasion of all of her visits here. Her new play was brought out in New York at Mr. Frohman's Empire Theater, last October, where it ran for about four months. The scenes of the play are located in Spain, possessing as it does a most distinctive Spanish atmosphere, having for one of its principal characters an illustrious Spanish bullfighter.

Additional interest will be given the engagement of James K. Hackett in his new romantic play, "The Crown Prince," at the Grand Opera House next week, from the fact that his leading woman, Miss Charlotte Walker, was educated at a St. Louis school. Miss Walker, who comes from an aristocratic family in Galveston, Tex., was sent to St. Louis to the Mary Institute when she was about 15 or 16 years old, and studied there for two years. While here she becarne fast friends with a number of St. Louis girls, and in consequence several boxes have already been reserved for the opening night, and a number of dinners, teas and other entertainments have been planned for her during the week.

David Belasco's war play, "The Heart of Maryland," with all the original glamor of sensational events, effective surprises, scenic display, excitement of camp and battlefield and heart interest of its love scenes, makes its return next week to Havlin's Theater for one week beginning with the matinee next Sunday.

Miss Lydia Knott, who will be seen at the Imperial next week in "Young Tobe Hoxie," will be remembered for her fine work when "York State Folks" was first produced here. Miss Knott is not only a talented actress, but is considered one of the prettiest leading women on the stage. She is now doing the best work of her stage career and giving valuable assistance to Mr. Ernest Lamson in his new pastoral play.

As an especial feature of this season's tour of William Maxwell Goodhue's jolly comedy, "Hello Bill," which is to make its bow to local theatergoers at the Grand Opera House for two performances only, next Sunday afternoon and night, Messrs. Goodhue & Kellogg, who are directing the fortunes of the merry play, have made a notable engagement in the person of Harry Blakemore. Mr. Blakemore's recent success is too well known to require mention, and it is said that as William Fuller, the hapless "Bill," who is caught in a gambling house the night preceding his wedding and who has to think quickly in order to act, Mr. Blakemore has evolved a comedy creation which has lifted him to a higher plane even than he has before enjoyed. The company includes such well-known people as Herbert J. Corthell, William H. Woodside, H. Bernard Denny, Eugene Shakespeare, Robert Wade, Caroline MacLean, Gertrude Raymore, Margaret Sayres, Lena Lorraine and Marion Kirby.

The season will open at West End Heights about the first of May. Fred A. Fairman, a local theatrical man, is to have charge of the vaudevill show at the gardens.
